Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

SMALL FIRE

A small fire was the result of the method employed by C. A. Wagner, owner of the Idle Hour Theatre, in filling the gasoline tank of his peanut roaster last Saturday night. In filling the tank he accidentally overflowed it and the gasoline run down the pipe into the burner he had neglected to turn off. The roaster was pushed from the inside of the building into the street where it soon burned out, doing damage only to the machine.

The Long and Short of It

Whatever a newspaper publishes that is calculated to put money into the coffers of an individual or to further the interest of his business in any way, the newspaper is entitled to pay for its service. That is the long and short of the principal. A newspaper must have a revenue from its advertising just as much as the baker must have pay for his bread. This one is as much a stock in trade as other and in large cities this is well understood and every bit of space in the city papers is well paid for. It is undoubtedly true that in some small places in the country, feeble newspapers yield to the kind of sponging referred to. In such places there are always persons who think the whole newspaper establishment is at their beck and command if they take one copy of the weekly paper.

Our poor human race has had it hard enough. Man goes forth assaulted all through life. Indeed, the attack begins in infancy and the cradle is bombarded with croups, scarlet fevers, and whooping coughs, and the cradle that survives is in some respects like the ark of bulrushes in which the infant Moses rode forth out among the crocodiles. But because he has survived the infantile diseases, let not man think he is to escape further assault. Pneumonia takes after his lungs, diphtheria after his throat, ophthalmia after his eyes, rheumatism after his muscles, neuralgia after his nerves, toothache after his jaws and deafness after his ears; and all his life a man must be on his guard, or positively in battle, against physical ailments.

BUY YOUR FORD

The Universal Car

And Buy It Now.

If you intend to become the owner of one of the new Ford models at any time in the next few months--if you intend to enjoy the comfort and luxury and real satisfaction that only a Ford can give. -- BUY YOUR FORD NOW.

For in spite of the tremendous capacity of the Ford Factory it has been absolutely impossible for us to get cars fast enough to fill the demand promptly. In the busiest part of the season, there are always ten buyers for every three buyers we can supply. Therefore if you wait till February or March or April to place your order, you may have to wait for weeks before your order is filled. The one thing to do is to BUY YOUR FORD NOW.

In the old days, some people had an idea that automobiles were for summer use only, but they've gotten all over that now. They've found that automobiles are more necessary in winter than they are in summer, and give as much enjoyment. And you see almost as many cars on the roads and streets in December as you do in May or June. And there's no car made in the world, no matter what its price, that gives better service or more complete satisfaction in winter driving than the always efficient Ford.

So whatever you do, don't wait. Get your NEW FORD NOW. Get the enjoyment, the convenience, the health it will give you this winter. Take a winter outing every day. Get some roses in your cheeks and the crisp tonic of winter ozone in your lungs.

Restrictive Measures Needed to Check Flood of Immigration When War Ends

By R. F. FOERSTER
Professor of Economics of Harvard University

The highest market for labor after the war will be undoubtedly in the United States. Prices will be high here, too, no doubt, and wages probably will not be so high as they are now. Nevertheless, the United States will be the best country in which to make a living and the European countries will be the worst. So immigration at the rate of something more than a million a year is a reasonable thing to expect.

This flow will come to us principally from Italy and eastern Europe, where the work of reconstruction is not going to be a material factor in holding the laborers. It is a mistake to think of the upbuilding of San Francisco after her earthquake, or of the reconstruction of Baltimore after her fire, as a sample of the things that are going to happen in Europe. San Francisco and Baltimore were rich cities in a rich country, and reconstruction of something better than that which had been destroyed came quickly and as a matter of course.

For a symbol of what is coming in Europe it is better to look to Messina, which was destroyed eight years ago, and is still in ruins because of the comparative poverty of the people of that city and of Italy. They will be much poorer at the end of the war than they were at the time of the Sicilian earthquakes, and the same will be true of Poland and Galicia and, to a great extent, of Serbia and the rest of the Balkans.

Of course any increase in immigration is going to put emphasis once more on the question of whether or no the United States should adopt restrictive measures. Personally I believe that we should. That may sound selfish. But, in a broad way, we cannot do anything in the United States to raise the tone of our citizenship without its reacting favorably on the other countries of the world. People would simply stay at home until they were better prepared to come, and be the sort of citizens that we ought to have, and their home countries would see to it that they were so prepared. With permanent improvement in Europe, they would be less likely to want to come.

We should tell the rest of the world what kind of raw material we want for the making of American citizens and then we will get it.

Crime Can Best Be Reduced by Making Study of Defectives From Childhood

By COL. CYRUS BARTON ADAMS
Director of Massachusetts Prisons

The ultimate result of modern methods is that reformatories will become laboratories for the study of defectives. The defective delinquent is the great problem of society today. The mentally normal may, with proper supervision, be brought back to usefulness. The defective seldom can, for some of them, after becoming adults, never acquire greater mentality than a child of twelve. Segregation of the defective delinquent is a desirable method, and probation methods may make it possible to use the present institutions for such segregation, while the normal are kept at work outside.

There is nothing like keeping men at work, earning a living, to keep them out of mischief. The great demand for labor, skilled and unskilled, resulting from the European war, is one of the causes that have lessened the population of the institutions. What will happen when the war ends and the demand for labor has ceased no one can foretell.

Probation, directed by the proper men, by efficient officers, men of experience and judgment, is one of the effective means of dealing with those delinquents who are not defective.

There has been progressiveness in the treatment of offenders. The old idea was vengeance and retribution; then came repression; then reformation, and now prevention. Sanitary science and medicine recognize prevention as a most desirable agency. Actual prevention in criminology can only be effective if it can begin with the child, which is impossible except in the case of defectives who come under control of the state. But repetition of offense may be prevented by a proper system of probation when sentence imposed for the first offense has been served or is suspended.

Universal Military Training Tends to Abolish Senseless Class Distinctions

By LIEUT. GEN. S. B. M. YOUNG
President Association for Universal Military Training

We advocate military training of all young men physically and mentally fit for at least one year with the colors in any year from eighteen to twenty-one, because of its value in building up their health. The physical condition of our young men, as shown by the late examination of National Guardsmen, calls for at least one year of military training and regular living as a necessity on the basis of health, the development of manly and independent qualities, alertness of mind and body, promptness in action, individual hygiene and discipline, respect for authority, obedience to law—a weak point in our national character is our impatience at all legal restraint—and the unifying influence created by the association of young men of all races and all classes.

There is no doubt in my mind that a shoulder-to-shoulder association will tend rapidly toward the decline of our inhumanly, un-American and senseless class distinctions.

Strong National Credit Would Result in Saving if Government Owned Roads

By Col. Smith W. Brookhart

One billion two hundred million "economic saving" would result from government railroad ownership. The saving would be made possible by government credit, since the government can borrow money for less interest than anyone else.

Even if the roads cost the government $15,333,333,000—the full amount of their capitalization, water and all—and even if the interest rate should rise to 3 1/2 per cent, the annual saving to the government would be $500,000,000.

Fifteen governments now own their railroads, in whole or in part. In all these countries labor is treated better than under private ownership. Service is better, and there is more safety.

BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

Now Care to Walk.

It is hardly too much to say that the automobile as she is at present driven has made walking for pleasure or walking for health—walking of every sort, in fact, except mere pavement strolling or hurried, rabbitlike dashes for the shelter of the nearest trolley car—practically impossible, a source of annoyance and perpetual discomfort instead of a pleasure.—Exchange.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. LABOR UNION VS. SALOON.

From an address by Rev. Father James E. Cassidy of Fall River, Mass.:

"Unionism, as I conceive it, stands for brotherly help. Saloonism stands for brotherly robbery. Unionism stands for self-protection. Saloonism stands for self-destruction. Unionism stands for self and brotherly benefit. Saloonism stands for self and brotherly injury. Unionism stands for conservation of strength and increase of wage. Saloonism stands for the dissipation and diminution of both. Unionism stands for the 'full dinner pail.' Saloonism stands for a pocketful of beef checks. Unionism stands for better homes and the highest standard of workmanship. Saloonism stands for wretched homes and ruined workmanship. Well you know it, better than do I, you whose homes it has made desolate, whose wives and daughters it has devoured, whose sons and fathers it has consumed, whose little ones it has fed upon. You know what the saloon stands for. You know it stands for the fattening of the few while the many perish and die. But you will say to me: If the saloon be such a deadly enemy of labor, why does not unionism fight it? And I answer, sane, skilled, disinterested, farsighted unionism has always fought it and the more skilled the members, the more deadly the conflict. And organized labor is slowly shutting off its wind and will eventually destroy it.

INSURANCE TESTIMONY.

Results of the medico-actuarial investigation based on statistical data from 43 American life insurance companies covering an experience of 25 years shows (1) that individuals who took two glasses of beer or a glass of whisky or an equivalent amount of alcohol in any form, each day, showed a mortality 18 per cent higher than the average of the group; (2) that the mortality among those who had indulged in occasional alcoholic excesses previous to their application for life insurance was 50 per cent higher than the average, which means the loss of four years to such lives; (3) that men who acknowledged the habit of indulging somewhat freely, but who were still considered acceptable for insurance, showed a mortality of 86 per cent higher than the average.

BEER MOST DEADLY.

Dr. S. H. Burgen, a practitioner 35 years, 28 in Toledo, O., says:

"I think beer kills quicker than any other liquor. My attention was first called to its insidious effects when I began examining for life insurance. I passed as unusually good risks five Germans, young business men, who seemed in the best health, and to have superb constitutions. In a few years I was amazed to see the whole five drop off, one after another, with what ought to have been mild and easily curable diseases. On comparing my experiences with those of other physicians I found they were all having similar luck with confirmed beer drinkers, and my practice since has heaped confirmation upon confirmation."

DOGS AS JAIL INMATES.

From the Portland (Ore.) Evening Express:

Nine months after the prohibition law went into effect, City Marshal Jack Carter of Marshfield, has no prisoners in the jail except four dogs, says the Portland Evening Telegram. From one of the wettest towns in the state this has become one of the driest and the marshal this week started a roundup of all the stray dogs in town. "There's nothing else to put in jail," he said, "and we might as well keep the Hotel-de-Carter open even if it's with dogs."

CUT OUT LIQUOR SHIPMENTS.

Big express companies are refusing C. O. D. liquor shipments into dry territory. "The reason why we do not care to transport liquor into dry territory," says Mr. Simpson, general superintendent of the Wells-Fargo company, "is because such operations are nothing more than conducting saloons. It does not seem fair to vote out the operation of saloons and permit express companies to come right along and conduct the same traffic."

TOURIST BUSINESS BOOMING.

"One of the most logical arguments I heard against prohibition when it was an issue in this state was that it would decrease, even ruin, the tourist business. But if it continues to hurt Colorado tourist trade as it has this year, I am afraid the state will not have enough room to handle the crowds," is the comment of Arthur J. Dodge, manager of the Civic and Commercial association of Denver.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR A CHILD'S BOWELS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Adv.

Truthful Excuse.

"The sheriff caught his young assistant writing love letters in business hours today."

"What did the young fellow say when he was taxed with doing so?"

"Said he was not shirking his duty as they were all writs of attachment."

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET.

A well known actress gives the following recipe for gray hair: To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off. Adv.

She Was Shopping.

She had been sitting in the furniture shop for nearly two hours, inspecting the stock of linoleums. Roll after roll the perspiring assistant brought out, but still she seemed dissatisfied. From her dress he judged her to be a person of wealth, and thought it likely she would have a good order to give. When at last he had shown her the last roll he paused in despair.

"I'm very sorry, madam," he said apologetically, "but if you could wait I could get some more pieces from the factory. Perhaps you would call again."

The prospective customer gathered her belongings together and rose from the chair.

"Yes, do," she said, with a gracious smile, "and ask them to send you one or two with very small designs, suitable for putting in the bottom of a canary's cage."—Chicago Journal.

She Had Heard of One.

"Whoever saw a perfect man?" asked an evangelist at a revival meeting. "There is no such thing. Every man has his faults, plenty of them."

Of course, no one had ever seen a perfect man, and consequently the statement of the revivalist was received with silence. The revivalist continued:

"Whoever saw a perfect woman?"

At this juncture a tall, thin woman arose.

"Do you mean to say, madam," the evangelist asked, "that you have seen a perfect woman?"

"Well, I can't just say that I have seen her," the woman replied, "but I have heard a great deal about her—my husband's first wife."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Quite in Keeping.

"Did you see where the price of monkeys has gone up?"

"Just like 'em—aping the rest of the world."

When Work Is Hard

That kidney troubles are so common is due to the strain put upon the kidneys in so many occupations, such as: Jarring and jolting on railroads, etc. Cramp and strain as in barbing, moulding, heavy lifting, etc. Exposure to changes of temperature in iron furnaces, refrigerators, etc. Dampness as in tanneries, quarries, mines, etc. Inhaling poisonous fumes in painting, printing and chemical shops. Doan's Kidney Pills are fine for strengthening weak kidneys.

There is a tombstone in St. Nicholas' churchyard, Brighton, to a woman soldier. It is erected to the memory of Phoebe Hessel, who was born in Stepeny in the year 1713, and states: "She served for many years as a private soldier in the Fifth Regiment of Foot in different parts of Europe, and in the year 1754 fought under the command of the duke of Cumberland at the battle of Fontenoy, where she received a bayonet wound in the arm. Her long life, which commenced in the time of Queen Anne, extended to the reign of George IV, by whose munificence she received comfort and support in her last years. She died at Brighton, where she had long resided, December 12, 1821, aged one hundred and eight years."—Adv.

OPPORTUNITIES THAT ARE MISSED

Why Wait? Why Not Go to Western Canada Now?

The writer has frequently heard the remark that "after the war we will go to Western Canada." It does not occur to those making the remark that if they wish to secure lands in Western Canada, whether by homestead or purchase, the best time to go is now. After the war the welcome will be just as hearty as ever, but the chances are that land values will increase and today homesteads are plentiful and land is reasonable in price. There is no question about what the land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will do, what it will give under proper cultivation.

Farmers in Western Canada are paying for their land holdings with the proceeds of last year's crop. That this is no idle statement may be gleaned from the three following items, which are picked out at random:

"In the spring of 1916 a half-section of land was offered for sale at $17.00 per acre. There were 105 acres of summer-fallow, which, because the owner could not at the time find a buyer, were seeded to wheat. A yield of 40 bushels per acre, 4,200 bushels all told, grading No. 1, was obtained. The price the day the grain was sold (which was very early in the season, before grain prices advanced to round about $2.00) was $1.60, which brought the handsome total of $6,720.00. Three hundred and twenty acres at $17.00 equals $5,440.00, so that a buyer, by placing less than half of the whole under crop, would have made a profit of $1,280.00."—Robson Messenger, Robson, Sask.

"That the 'Indiana Boys' farm this year raised sufficient crop to pay for the land, all the machinery and all overhead expenses as well as make a handsome profit, is the information given by N. B. Davis, the manager. The wheat yield was over 22,000 bushels. Of twelve cars already sold, nine graded No. 1, and Mr. Davis has sold over 2,000 bushels locally for seed at $2.00. Naturally, when he gets to Indiana he will be a big booster for Alberta."—Bassano Mail, Bassano, Alta.

"Oscar Castlor, who bought land at Blusson after the crop had been put in last spring, for $3,800.00, has threshed 3,900 bushels of wheat, which is worth at present prices about $7,500.00. He refused an offer of $5,000.00 for the land after the crop had been taken off."—Lethbridge Herald, Lethbridge, Alta.

Reports from the wheat fields are highly encouraging and show that the wheat crop of many farmers in Western Canada was highly satisfactory.

Coblenz, Sask.—W. A. Rose has threshed an average of 33 bushels per acre and 83 bushels of oats.

Gleichen, Alberta.—Up to date 237,812 bushels of grain have been received by local elevators, of which nearly 180,000 bushels were wheat. Seventy-one cars of grain have already been shipped.

Stoop Creek, Sask.—James McRae has threshed 5,400 bushels of grain, 2,000 bushels of which were wheat, grading No. 1 Northern. One field averaged 44 bushels per acre, and a large field of oats averaged 83 bushels.

If information as to the best location is required, it will be gladly furnished by any Canadian Government Agent, whose advertisement appears elsewhere.—Advertisement.

VOGUES AND VANITIES

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Made for Youthful Wearers

The style-wise manikin is busy parading the newest thing in one-piece gowns before the practiced eyes of buyers of ready-made dresses. First, he wonders how she gets into them; next, he wonders why she ever wears anything different, and finally he buys. Shortly you will be doing likewise, for the one-piece frock has made a hit with matron and maid.

The model shown here is designed for a miss who has arrived at the dignity of sixteen years, at least, or progressed somewhat beyond. It may be successfully made of any of the light-weight woolen fabrics, as serge, gaberdine, broadcloth, and other weaves. It is very effective made in small black-and-white shepherd's check, and trimmed with black braid instead of embroidery.

This dress looks too simple to need description, and it is simple, but less, so than a glance conveys. It has a fitted lining under the waist, which supports the skirt and holds the waist in position.

A plaited and shirred panel is let into the plain, straight-hanging skirt at each side.

The bodice is gathered into a belt and fastens along the shoulder and under arms with snap fasteners. The sleeves are large and gathered at the wrists into a narrow band. The easy turnover collar, faced with white, is of exactly the right character for a frock of this design.

Embroidery in rich colors brightens the bodice, girdle, and sleeves, and a little band of it appears on the panels in the skirt.

When She Goes Bicycling

Clothes exactly suited to their use are sure to possess distinction, because this is one of the elements of good style. Now that everybody goes bicycling, costumers have bent their fertile minds upon togs for the wheel, and have turned out such altogether fetching creations that the sportswoman flotes upon them. It is enough to tempt one to live out of doors all the time, when comfort and beauty are combined as they are in sports clothes.

From top to toe the lady who smiles at life, in the accompanying picture, is dressed as she should be. Her suit comprises three pieces, knickerbockers, coat, and skirt. She wears golf stockings and low-heeled, broad-toed calfskin shoes. Her hat is close fitting, a smart shape with brim enough to shade the eyes. It is of a light-colored velour, trimmed with a scarf of soft silk.

While on the subject of sports hats a new, rainproof fabric which is double faced merits mention. It looks like a thin leather on one side and a satin on the other. It is used in hats intended for motoring, or any other sport. Then there are hats crocheted of a patented braid. They are beautiful and comfortable, clinging to the head like a glove to the hand.

The wheel skirt shown in the picture is made of serge in shepherd's check, and depends upon bone buttons for its decoration. The coat is made with a set-in bit of the material, and is provided with patch pockets. The wide sailor collar is faced with satin. Plain coatsleeves are finished with deep cuffs with a pointed turned-back flap at the top fastened down with a button. The knickers are just plain knickers, with nothing to distinguish them from any others. The skirt is perfectly plain, fits smoothly about the hips, and is just full enough to allow a comfortable stride. When the fair bicyclist abandons her wheel to walk, take tea, or otherwise disport herself, she may fasten it at the front, for it is furnished with buttons and button holes for that purpose.

Here is Proof by Women who Know

Lowell, Mass.—"For the last three years I have been troubled with the Change of Life and the bad feelings common at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain a good deal of the time so I was unfit to do my work. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it has helped me in every way. I am not nearly so nervous, no headache or pain. I must say that Lydia E. North Haven, Conn.—"When I was 45 I had the Change of Life which is a trouble all women have. At first it didn't bother me but after a while I got bearing down pains. I called in doctors who told me to try different things but they did not cure my pains. One day my husband came home and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash?' Well, I got them and took about 10 bottles of Vegetable Compound and could feel myself regaining my health. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and it has done me a great deal of good. Any one coming to my house who suffers from female troubles or Change of Life, I tell them to take the Pinkham remedies. ### The New Method

(BY L. W. BOWER, M. D.)

Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance over-working the sick kidneys, hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack ambition to do things.

The latest and most effective means of overcoming this trouble, is to eat sparingly of meat, drink plenty water between meals and take a single Anuric tablet before each meal for a while.

Simply ask your favorite druggist for Anuric. If you have lumbago, rheumatism, gout, dropsy, begin immediately with this novel treatment.

Enjoys Trip

Mrs. Ev Nelson stopped at the Monitor office last Friday and gave us a few notes worth while about her trip to Kansas recently. While there she visited Mrs. Blanche Roll Allen and Alice Roll Packard. She had not seen the former since they were children twelve years of age and each knew the other at the station platform where they furnished a noticeable scene of greeting.

She stated that going into St. Louis after night on the Big Four was a very pretty scene, saying, that one sees a large electric flag of red, white and blue and below it an inscription reading "Welcome to St. Louis." She says that the flag aroused American patriotism among the passengers on her train.

While preparing to leave the train a man saw a little white ribbon she wore and said, "There's no Republican politics about that either" referring to her ribbon, she replied "no" and told him that it was the kind Indiana was getting ready for. While in St. Louis she crossed the Eads bridge over the Mississippi by foot and paid 5 cents toll for the privilege of walking the mile. The bridge is 110 ft. high and cost $7,000,000.

A note of interest is the fact that she saw an old fashioned immigrant wagon covered with bows and muslin. She learned later that they could still be bought in Pittsburg, a town of 20,000 population.

She stated that politics was at a high tide this year in Kansas, it being the first time the women have ever been given a vote for the president. She says the women are well informed and differ in politics as do the men.

Mrs. Nelson attended a Sunday School program at Peoria, where they displayed a real baby in a manger of hay in a tabernacle.

Augusta, a town near Wichita is their greatest oil field. At one glance from the car window, she saw twelve 55,000 barrel oil tanks, and streets of tents where people lived. A train from Wichita in the morning and evening and carries workers from their work. There are 100 oil companies in the city of Wichita alone. Wells are drilled 2,500 feet deep and the largest flowing well there flows 14,000 barrels a day. The cost of drilling a well is $200 per day.

Mrs. Nelson played an interesting part in saving a child from death in a pell mell rush of passengers for a train. She also said that speculation was a very prosperous business in the locality that she visited.

HIGH SCHOOL.

J. Wakefield has won great popularity in refereeing B. B. for Hartford City. Those attending the game last Friday were Lloyd Spayde, Hobart Connelly, Otho Graves, Fred Marine and Harry Fisherbuck.

John Bugher is now librarian for the Public School. We are sure that the books will be kept in apple pie order.

The Freshies have installed the picture of James Whitcomb Riley in the Assembly.

Perhaps if Ruth wants to talk, she had better get permission for a period.

A mandolin club under the direction of Mr. Pickett from T. U., has been organized. Its members are J. Wakefield and L. C. Wisner of the faculty, Hobart Connelly, Otho Graves, Lloyd Spayde, John Bugher, Max Hobbs, Ernest Wilkins and Fred Wilson.

Bill has washed his upper lip. Who says that the mandolin club can't learn, even if they can't play.

The Juniors are going to give a play. Are the Seniors? Doris says no; but—

Mr. Wisner has the Latin Club going in fine shape. Every progressive high school should have a club or two of this sort. It is one of the things which make a so called dead language very much alive.

Wanted: For the High School laboratory; any scraps of silk that you may have lying around. Please give them to Mr. Wakefield.

What about having the National Guard watch the ground hog holes in the country and give Mr. Ground Hog no chance to see his shadow. As for us we're nearly out of coal. And the guard isn't so busy at present, having quit waiting for VII'a to come out of his hole.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith were made grandparents last Thursday evening when a fine baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ervin of Hartford City. The mother before marriage was Miss Lelah Smith, a graduate from the High School here in the year 1912. The new-comer will be known in the future as Frank Smith Ervin.

Jessie House will move shortly to the Riley Wright farm in Blackford County.

The chassis for the city's new motor truck was brought to Gas City Tuesday afternoon, and the fire committee and the Chief Burr Saunders are now having the body put on, and the other equipment fitted on the truck. It is hoped to have it ready for service within a week or two.—Gas City Journal.

Mrs. T. M. Smith of Muncie is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Bell.

Mrs. F. E. Broderick has returned to Upland after a two weeks visit in Marion

The Legislature

The so-called progressive measures before the general assembly have made considerable progress during the third full week of the session. Constitutional convention, prohibition and suffrage measures have been blocking the way just as primary legislation obstructed two years ago. The constitutional convention bill stalled things moving when it passed the house by a vote of 87 to 10 and was sent to the senate. It may not pass the upper body by quite so large a proportionate majority but there is conceded to be not much chance of its being defeated. This is one of the bills for which both the retiring and incoming governor made pleas in addressing the general assembly. It is one of the bills which Governor Goodrich has declared he will do all in his power to have passed if it is necessary for him to take any part.

The bill providing for statewide prohibition, and a bill which it is believed would make the state "sure enough dry," passed the house on Thursday by 70 to 28. It is conceded by both sides that the vote in the senate will be close, in fact very close. One of the Indianapolis papers has printed what is assumed to be a pretty accurate poll of the members. This poll showed 18 wet, 24 dry and 7 doubtful. Of the 7 doubtful, one at last was known among his friends to be dry. According to the wet lobby, letters from home are having an influence upon some of the senators.

The measure would prohibit the sale, manufacture, gift, advertisement or transportation of intoxicating liquor except pure grain alcohol for scientific purposes.

Penalty for violation of the law is fixed at from $100 to 500 fine and imprisonment of from thirty days to six months.

Druggists are permitted to handle intoxicating liquors in quantities of not less than one gallon after obtaining a permit from the county clerk and giving bond of $1,000. They must then sell liquor only on prescription of a reputable physician and only one sale may be made on each prescription. Druggists must file records of sales which they have made with the county clerk every six months.

Provision is also made that within ten days after the law goes into force every person must have moved stocks of liquor from the state, unless they have procured a permit.

Exemption is made for private use, one gallon of liquor other than beer and twelve quarts of beer to each person. The bill, if it is passed by the senate and signed by the governor, will abolish 3,591 saloons in the state and 160 wholesale liquor dealers. The largest part of these are located in Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, South Bend, Terre Haute and Evansville.
