Health Officer-A Woman

Mrs. Lida Outland was made the city's Health Officer at the last regular meeting of the Town Council. She is the first woman in Upland to take a public office.
With the coming of woman suffrage we would not be surprised to see our streets patrolled some day by a woman police.

Mrs. B. W. Ayers, joined the engineering corps; Floyd Barnhart, a student at Taylor

Herbert Waterman, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Robert Waterman; George Stels, son of Mrs. Luella Stels and Clifton Jones joined the coast artillery. All the boys left last week.

Big Stick Teddy

Theodore Roosevelt is still ambitious even at the expense of consistency. He has always been the champion of Universal Military service, but now his desire to lead a volunteer army, which would be known as Tedd's own, is a most serious handicap to the government in its plan to hit the kaiser.

At the last meeting of the U. H. S. bought their tickets. A number of the tickets already sold were to out-of-town

Clean Up Week

"Safety First"

APRIL 30 to MAY 5 INCLUSIVE

It is now time to clean up the premises, adjacent streets and alleys of all rubbish and decomposing material of tin cans, wire, brick-bats, broken dishes and glassware. All indentations of the surface where accumulations of filth and water may stagnate must be filled with earth, and all drains and sewer kept sanitary, ashes disposed of, paper and rags must not be allowed to lie on the ground and mould for beneath their use are some of the germs of diphtheria and typhoid fever and kindred diseases. Flies are disease carriers.
The best way of combating flies is to prevent their breeding by destroying their breeding places. If it is not possible to store manure in fly-proof places, then the manure must be treated with chemicals every ten days during warm weather to destroy the eggs. Mix one half pound of hellebore with ten gallons of water, and mix thoroughly with the manure.

Screen the house carefully, to keep the flies out. Keep the premises scrupulously clean, inside and out. Closets must be cleaned out, use slack lime freely to keep down odors and prevent flies from breeding. Proper covered receptacles for garbage must be provided, and contents disposed of, when full, by burying in the earth or burning, or taken out of town.

Put wire, cans, broken glassware, bottles, in boxes or barrels and place in the alleys and the Town Board will see that they are hauled away.

Beautify the town by placing half-barrels or boxes filled with growing plants and flowers near the edge of side walks, make the town cheerful and sanitary and its people will be healthy and happy.
The Marshal is instructed to see that all ordinances pertaining to the town's health are obeyed.

By Order of Board of Health,
Lida Outland, Sec'y.

106 Fly Poison Cases Reported in 3 Years A Large Percentage Fatal

Appalling as this record seems, it is only a fraction of the real number. The symptoms of cholera infantum and arsenical poisoning are almost identical. Diagnosis is extremely difficult. Many actual fly poison cases are unrecognized and unreported.

The Government recognizes this danger to childhood and issues this warning, in supplement No. 29 to the Public Health Report.

"Of other fly poisons mentioned, mention should be made, merely for the purpose of condemnation, of those composed of arsenic. Fatal cases of poisoning of children through the use of such compounds are far too frequent, and bring to the remembrance of arsenical poisoning to summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum. It is believed that the cases reported do not, by any means, comprise the total. Arsenical fly-destroying devices must be rated as extremely dangerous, and should never be used, even if other measures are not at hand."

Rats and Fires.

At a time when everyone is complaining of the high cost of living it might be well to see if we cannot eliminate two great sources of waste—fires and rats.

Most fires are needless. All rats are so. Some years ago a study of the rat problem in Philadelphia arrived at the conclusion that the rodents of that city ate more than a million dollars' worth of food each year. At that rate, the disgusting creatures can hardly cost less than $100,000,000 per year to the whole country. This is a pretty high price to pay for the companionship of impish pests which, besides their other bad habits, undermine floors and carry the most dreaded of all diseases, bubonic plague.

Yet fires are more expensive than rats. In 1915—the last year for which figures are at hand—the American people paid out in premiums for fire insurance $419,861,346. Of this vast sum at least three-fourths could be saved by reducing our fire record to the rate prevailing in England, France, Germany; and even in our time and nation $300,000,000 per year is a saving worth noting, and one which would have a perceptible effect on the cost of living.

The "Multican and Divider."

Clara had come home from school hungry and very cross.

"If I had been away all day having a good time," said her mother, "I should come home in a better humor."

"Having a good time," sniffed Clara, "and teacher fussing with you because you can't tell which is the multican and which the divider?"

Hardships of Oratory.

"Why do you refuse to make any more speeches? Won't your people listen to you?"

"The difficulty is," replied Senator Sorghum, "that they listen too closely. When I tell 'em something now they rush off to have it verified and hold me responsible for the facts."

Two hearts are better than one—if they are trumps.

Modern queens, touring the trenches and working in hospitals, are a marked improvement on the old-fashioned kind who spent the peoples' money in having a good time.

While a naval aviator at Pensacola succeeded in looping the loop in a hydro-airplane, the straightaway flyer is most useful in warfare.

England may turn her golf links into potato fields, but will the same hands that have welded the brassie and the stymie wield the hoe?

From the poultry dealers' catalogues one learns that white chickens are growing in popularity. Is this another result of the shortage of dyes?

Philadelphia authorities have discovered 33,000 pounds of four-year-old eggs in a cold storage plant. It must have been an easy scent to follow.

Somebody wants to stop the sale of antiseptics because some of them are poisonous. On the same basis perhaps he'd like to stop the sale of soap because it isn't good to eat.

Anyhow, many more people are aware of the existence of Salem, Ore., since it blandly requested all the other Salems to change their names. And that, no doubt, was the big idea.

"There's a Reason"

Grape-Nuts contains the rich supplies of phosphate of potash grown in wheat and barley. Its mission is therefore clear and plain—it supplies what ordinary food lacks. And it does its work in a sturdy, straightforward, dependable way, as tens of thousands of its users can testify.

Under some conditions a potato patch looks prettier than a tennis court.

A Western minister declares dining has become a lost art, but he probably means eating.

Not to be out of style, and possibly to show that it is civilized, Abyssinia is having a war.

Nowadays, instead of an onion breath being considered vulgar, it is the very essence of refinement.

Planting potatoes in your back yard this spring will keep you out of some other form of foolishness.

Onions are now so high that the poets cannot afford them as a rhyme to or a poultice on bunions.

Folks generally don't have more good luck than they desire, or more bad luck than they can stand.

A baby shouting for his morning meal makes as good an example of what a food riot really is as anything we know of.

No longer ago than last summer the shores of this country were threatened by nothing more cruel and destructive than sharks.

Of course there are lots of people who live at a cost of 25 cents a day, but there are lots more who wouldn't if they could.

Some motion picture films rent for more than $100 a day. No wonder the proprietors of photoplay houses hate to see it rain.

Engaged girls will no longer be receiving diamond rings as evidence of betrothal, but an onion surrounded with potato chips.

Playing the glad game, we can at least be happy in the thought that nobody can say there is nothing in the papers nowadays.

Inventors are spurred by hunger, according to a contemporary, in which case Europe will shortly put Yankee ingenuity on the blink.

After looking over the bills of fare of families who live well on $3.51 a month, others decide to stand pat and take all risks one way.

A dietician says the potato is not an indispensable article of food. Thousands of people have already found that out for themselves.

A few years more of universal warfare and the figures showing how much a man eats in a lifetime will have to undergo radical revision.

The average housewife doesn't worry when she hears that cabbages are selling at $160 a ton, because she figures that she doesn't buy them that way.

Domestic gardening is not a matter of infallible inspiration, as is demonstrated by the fact that even in a crisis the family rubber plant is quite inedible.

Having perfected the self-starter, it is now up to the automobile inventors to observe the number of collisions recently and turn their attention to a self-stopper.

Modern queens, touring the trenches and working in hospitals, are a marked improvement on the old-fashioned kind who spent the peoples' money in having a good time.

BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your liver clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

BUSINESS AND HEALTH.

"Why is our country going dry so fast?" asks the Philadelphia Ledger, and answers: "Business and health! That combination beats moral suasion and the appeals of a 'Ten Nights in a Barroom.'"

"Life insurance companies for some years past have paid very close attention to liquor as an insurance hazard. They have compiled figures, using hundreds of thousands of persons as a basis for computations. These prove that a man who does not drink will on the average live much longer than the man who drinks even moderately.

"Taking 2,000,000 policyholders as a test, insurance companies discovered that men who only occasionally 'got tight' suffered a death rate just one-half greater than strictly temperance men. Among men who drink only two glasses of beer or one glass of whisky in a day the mortality was almost a fifth greater. Other men who drink more than that but still not enough to bar them from insurance companies, showed an appalling mortality of almost double that among men who were never introduced to John Barleycorn."

DRINK AND MACHINERY.

Things have changed since the day when a man could drink and injure no one but himself and a few others, says the Kansas City Star in an editorial on "Booze and Machinery."

A drunken man might drive a horse through a street crowded with other horses and not damage himself or anyone else; but a drunken man in a motor car in a street crowded with other hurrying motor cars becomes a veritable death angel. A drunken man might drive a stage coach filled with passengers and all arrive safely. But a drunken man at the engine throttle, or asleep in the signal tower, is a different thing. A drunken blacksmith in the old days would simply split a few horseshoes, and maybe give his wife a black eye. But now a drunken factory hand can ruin thousands of dollars' worth of machinery and endanger lives of fellow workmen.

PROHIBITION STANDS TEST.

The year 1916 has witnessed a triumph perhaps even greater than the mere gaining of territory, a thorough and satisfactory testing of the prohibition policy. During the past 52 weeks the new prohibition states have so convincingly demonstrated the economic, social and moral benefits of the law that they are quite sufficient refutation of the false charges made by the liquor publicity bureaus that prohibition does not prohibit; that it is a failure; that it leads to economic disaster, and other statements of like tenor. As to the satisfaction of the residents of these states with the new regime, the magnificent vote in Oregon, Washington, Colorado, Arizona and Arkansas on November 7 against the measures initiated by the liquor interests to weaken or nullify the new laws, furnishes abundant testimony.

INSANITY AND DRY STATES.

The publicity bureau of the liquor interests is trying to make the public believe that prohibition Kansas has more insane in proportion to the population than have license states. He selects for selection three wet states which are more than 50 per cent dry, rather than three which are mostly wet, as New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. But that is a way the liquorites have.

The insane rate in Kansas is 172.2 per 100,000; in New York it is 342.2 per 100,000; in New Jersey, 238.1 per 100,000; in Pennsylvania, 229.1 per 100,000.

When it comes to the percentage of what is known as alcoholic insanity—the only fair basis for a test—the rate in Kansas is remarkably low. That state has only 17 per cent of alcoholic insane.

PROHIBITION IS PROHIBITING.

Three breweries in St. Louis have gone out of business within the last few months. The Mutual was closed November 14 by order of the referee in bankruptcy; the Excelsior closed its doors January 1, and about the same time the Forest Park Brewing company filed a petition in bankruptcy. All on account of the encroachments of prohibition!

AVERAGE TAX RATE.

In 1915 the average tax rate in the dry Illinois cities of Mattoon, Decatur, Champaign, Bloomington, Freeport, Elgin, Canton, Galesburg, Rockford, and Jacksonville was 6.01. The average rate in the wet cities of East St. Louis, Springfield, Joliet, Waukegan, Moline, Rock Island, Aurora, Peoria, Danville and Quincy was 6.84.

TRULY PITIFUL!

"Speaking of drink," he said, though nobody had been, "you hear it said that alcohol stimulates the wit and imagination. That's rot. Have you ever been on the water wagon at a dinner where every one else was drinking? They say things they wouldn't think worth saying, and laugh at things they wouldn't think of laughing at, if it weren't for the champagne. The drinking doesn't make them brighter. It merely lowers their standard of appreciation. When you're stone sober, it's pitiful!"

FARM LABOR IN DEMAND IN WESTERN CANADA

Extraordinary Inducements Being Offered.

Previous articles have dealt with the necessity of producing extra quantities of foods to feed the world during this stress of high consumption and paucity of production. Instead of the condition improving it is growing worse, and unless drastic and immediate action is taken, prices will continue to climb higher. It is hoped by the Canadian government that by offering extra inducements to secure a homestead of 160 acres of excellent land in the homesteading areas of Western Canada, with the combined effort of the farmer in extraordinary preparation of tillage and bigger wages than ever, that Western Canada, with the assistance of a Divine Providence, may produce a greater number of million acres of wheat than ever in the past. The farm laborer can now secure a homestead on easier conditions than ever before. All the time that he works for a Western Canadian farmer during 1917, after he makes his entry or filing will count as residence on his homestead for that year, leaving him but two additional years' residence, before getting title to a piece of land that should then be easily worth $1,600. The response to this offer has been wonderful, and hundreds have already taken advantage of it.

The climate of Western Canada is one that breeds energy, instills life and buoyancy, and with the soil that the country possesses, no greater asset could be desired. The country is past the pioneering stage; its ability to grow all the smaller grains better than any other portion of the continent has been proven so often that it seems a waste of time to speak of it. The high name that has been given the country in the splendid class of live stock that it raises, has placed it in the high column with the best states of the Union. And then social conditions, something that every housewife asks about, are as nearly perfect as could be wished for. Thousands of miles of telephone line connect the remotest hamlet with the principal cities of the country and continent, miles of excellent graded roads, as well as the perfect natural roads of the prairie, make driving and hauling easy. Gridironed as these provinces are with railway lines bring the farm near to Atlantic or Pacific, or United States markets, rural mail delivery brings the settler still closer to the homes abroad. Rural and consolidated schools everywhere are easy adjuncts to the colleges and universities, which are said to be among the best on the continent.

Taxation is light, and only applied on the farm land, cattle, implements, etc., on the farm being exempt. Many farmers, having realized sufficient from one crop of wheat to pay for their entire farm holdings, have installed their own electric light and heating plants, have their automobiles and many luxuries they would not have possessed on their old home abroad. Life is comfortable and existence enjoyable in Western Canada. In no country is there a greater percentage of contented farmers, and in no part of the continent is farming easier or more profitable.

Land there will produce 30 bushels of wheat to the acre, while there are many cases where the yield was higher, as high as 70 bushels. What this means to the farm laborer does not fully appear on the surface. He will get good wages, he can secure a homestead worth at the end of three years about $1,600, while working for wages he can put in residence duties, and can also look around, and find a good location.

Besides the homesteading attraction of Western Canada, there remains the other fact that other lands can be purchased at from $15 to $30, while improved farms may be had at reasonable figures.

The desire to have a piece of land of one's own is a natural instinct in the heart of every properly developed man and woman. In earlier years, on account of the great areas of land available in the United States, no great difficulty was experienced by any ambitious settler of that country who wished to become his own landholder, but the rapid increase in population, combined with the corresponding rise in the price of land, has completely changed this condition. Land, which a generation ago might be had for the homesteading, now commands prices ranging to $100 an acre and over. At such prices it is quite hopeless for the tenant farmer or the farmer's son in moderate circumstances, or the city man with limited capital, to attempt to buy a farm of his own. To pay for it becomes a life-long task, and the probability is that he will never do more than meet the interest charges. If he is serious in his desire to secure a farm home, he must look to countries where there is still abundant fertile land available at moderate cost, and where these lands are to be purchased on terms which make it possible for the settler with small capital to become a farm owner as the result of a few years' labor. He will also want land in a country where the practices of the people are similar to those to which he has been accustomed; a country with the same language, same religion, same general habits of living, with laws, currency, weights and measures, etc., based on the same principles as those with which he is familiar. He wants a country where he can buy land from $10.00 to $30,000 an acre, which will produce as big or bigger crops as those he has been accustomed to from lands at $100.00 an acre. He wants this land where social conditions will be attractive to himself and his family, and where he can look forward with confidence to being in a few years independent, and well started on the road to financial success.

All these conditions he will find in Western Canada, and nowhere else. The provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, commonly called "Western Canada," provide the one and only answer to the land-hungry. The land is here; it is the kind of land he wants; the conditions are as nearly ideal as is possible, and the prices and terms are such that the man of moderate capital has an opportunity not available to him elsewhere.—Advertisement.

 "Don't say you have 'hired' a lawyer," protested the finicky person. "It is more elegant to use the word 'retained.'"

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR A CHILD'S BOWELS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Adv.

American Girl's Good Work.

Miss Winifred Holt of New York city, founder of the New York Association for the Blind, who has been in England and France almost continuously since the outbreak of the war, and has done such notable work for the blind soldiers there, is in the United States on a short visit in the interest of her work. Already more than 600 soldiers blinded in the war many of them minus an arm or a leg as well—have been cared for, nursed back to health and courage and transferred into industrious, self-supporting and hopeful men again at the institution in Paris, called the Light-house, conducted by Miss Holt for the relief of the war-blind. The aim of the work is to re-educate the men, with the handicap of blindness upon them, in some line of work they may be able to do in spite of it. During her sojourn in America, the work of the Lighthouse is in the hands of Miss Esther Cleveland, daughter of the late president, and of Miss Bernardette Grant, granddaughter of President Grant, who have been for many months Miss Holt's most valued helpers.

Are Strangers Now.

This is the reason the artist and his former friend do not speak any more. The artist got a local dealer to exhibit his paintings, and after a few days he took his bosom friend down to see the exhibition.

The friend looked the pictures over—critically, skeptically. Then he said: "I see that big painting has a tag on it saying, 'Sold.'"

"Yes," answered the artist. "Mr. Gillson bought that picture."

"Gillson did? Honest? Well, there's a big mistake here."

"What do you mean?"

"The dealer ought not to have hung that 'Sold' tag on the picture. He should have hung it on Gillson."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Yep. But he had to change his plans?"

"Why?"

"One rehearsal proved the plan to be entirely impossible."

"Impossible?"

"Yep. It wouldn't work at all."

"But I can't understand why."

"I'll tell you. He got a bunch of legs to tackle the job, all right—"

"Uh, huh—"

"But every time they got warmed up in a boxing bout they insisted on tearing off the gloves and pulling hair."

WOMEN! IT IS MAGIC!

LIFT OUT ANY CORN

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without pain or soreness.

A Cincinnati man discovered this ether compound and named it freezone. Any druggist will sell a tiny bottle of freezone, like here shown, for very little cost.

You apply a few drops directly upon a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off.

Freezone is wonderful. It dries instantly. It doesn't eat away the corn or callus, but shrivels it up without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Hard, soft or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses, lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards. If your druggist hasn't freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.—adv.

What Well Dressed Women Will Wear

The Ever-Welcome Taffeta Suit.

The perennial and ever-welcome taffeta coat is with us again and summer would hardly be complete without it. It reappears in handsome, warm brown tones, in several fine shades of blue and in black. In spite of lack of color in the last, it achieves real distinction, when a pongee collar, and facings of pongee on the cuffs, are added to smart style in design. It is in this development that it is pictured here.

A very handsome model among new arrivals is made of warm brown taffeta banded three times with wide, brown velvet ribbon between collar and hem. The silk is shirred into the bands, the sleeves are full and a very wide cape, bordered with velvet, adds a final gracious touch to a beautiful garment. One does not have to look twice to see the advantages of this design. In the right shade of blue it would be equally chic and practical. But it is important to remember that the choice of color means success or failure in a taffeta coat.

There are several points of interest in the coat pictured. The flare of the sleeves at the wrist where they are faced with pongee and the turned-back pointed cuffs are novel and graceful. Square pockets at each side extended into a strap and finished with a button, are new and ingenious. The belt is wide at the back and split into two, narrow bands at the front which are extended into sash ends in a style that appears on many of the new spring suits and coats. The taffeta coat, like the serge dress, comes back each year, with the return of spring, because its merit entitles it to a permanent place in the wardrobe. And there are taffeta coats—and taffeta coats—for all sorts of people.

Pretty Neckwear for Spring.

If ever there was a plain frock or suit that could not be helped out by the addition of pretty neckwear, it was a marvel and its like is not often met with just now. Collars, jabots and collar and cuff sets are playing an important role in the spring wardrobe, and designers of neckwear are casting about for ideas that will give variety to their products.

During the past month the frilly jabot has grown into prominence by long leaps. They are made of net and lace and of wide net-top laces, and of crepe. Most of them are attached to high-crushed collars of like material, but occasionally the jabot is collarless and is fastened to the dress or blouse with a long bar pin. But the jabot with high collar is worn with blouses and waists that are open at the throat and fall to meet the collar at the back.

For wear with one-piece dresses, sets like that shown in the picture never fail to please. This set is made of organdie, scalloped at the edges and embellished with small sprays of embroidery. The plain effects in these sets are very pretty. Some of them have nothing more than hemstitched hems for adornment. Others depend upon narrow tucks in groups, above narrow hemstitched hems. Fine and dainty edgings of lace whipped to edges of otherwise plain collars and cuffs and the finest of embroidered crepe edgings made just the right sort of finish for them.

These pretty neck pieces and sets make the choicest Easter gifts, especially if made by hand. Not much embroidery is needed on any of them. Among the new jabots, edgings of Renaissance lace set on to fine net in the jabot, and high collars of the lace, are most effective. Veils with this lace make beautiful neckwear, serving for the jabot set on to collars of net.

What Diseases Really Are.
Diseases are not isolated affections of the single organs in which they manifest themselves—mumps, of the salivary glands; typhoid, of the bowels; consumption, of the lungs; nephritis, of the kidneys; eczema, of the skin, and so on—but are a failure of the body as a whole to carry on its functions, and the particular organs are merely groups of cells that for specific reasons show the defect.

In accepting a position on the editorial staff of the New York Medical Journal, Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, the famous specialist in nervous and mental diseases, says this conception of disease is as old as Hippocrates, but is "too frequently overlooked in an era of absorbing specialistic investigation."

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, and what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Old Looks?

(BY DR. L. H. SMITH)
Persons suffering from too much uric acid in the system frequently look older than they should. They age faster and the appearance of gray hair or baldness in early years is, indeed, often a sign of uric acid. The face appears lean and haggard, lines and wrinkles appearing in young men or women. The best way to combat this premature age and the obstruction to the arteries and faulty circulation is of the simplest: Drink copiously of pure water between meals. This will not make you fat, as it is only the water taken with the meals that fattens. Obtain at any drug store a package of Anuric, double strength, which is to be taken before meals, in order to expel the uric acid from the system. The painful effects of backache, lumbago, rheumatism, gout, due to uric acid in the blood, should quickly disappear after treatment with Anuric.

Clean Up

A trip through this city shows many streets, yards, and open places that are littered with waste and rubbish, and are unsightly and unsanitary. If these are the conditions outdoors, exposed to view, what must be the conditions indoors in cellars, attics, and passageways in factories.

It is hardly necessary to dwell in detail on these facts, as most of you know that there is great need for a thorough Clean Up, and with the Clean Up goes the Paint Up so necessary to make the Clean Up permanent and to make things beautiful and create better living and working conditions for everyone.

This is indeed a movement for home and towns beautiful and to promote cleanliness, thrift and civic pride, and should appeal to every public-spirited citizen. The "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign is along the line of other movements now being inaugurated for community betterment. Activity along this line means much to any community in more wholesome and healthful conditions. A campaign of this kind is a step forward along Fire Prevention lines. It is bound to rid homes and factories of accumulations of rubbish that are liable to start fires, and so are a menace to the community.
