Heart-to-Heart Talks Are Lauded

By William J. Stewart, Charleston, S. C.

It is wonderful the amount of good that a straightforward, heart-toheart talk does sometimes. And yet, realizing this fact as well as we all say we do, it is strange how often for one reason or another we neglect many opportunities of having an understanding with those with whom we may not at times be on the very best

It may be that we go on for some time apparently content in the companionship of someone for whom we have a high admiration, then for some unaccountable reason our companionship becomes clouded, and we soon find ourselves on rather uncomfortable if not embarrassing terms.

We do not understand the reason and reach a hasty conclusion that if the other party has anything against us and is not man enough to come forward and say what it is, why, we can afford to forego the pleasure of his acquaintance, when perhaps he thinks very much the same way

Persons have been known to act in this manner for a long time without either one making the first step toward an understanding, and as a consequence much pleasure and even mutual profit is foregone because of their thickheadedness.

Perhaps unwittingly one may have given some slight offense to the other, or vice versa, and because neither has common sense, or courage, enough to demand an explanation their relations become more or less strained and they feel uncomfortable and ill at ease in each other's

A few words spoken at the right time and in the right way would pave the way for a better understanding, and after a while a plain talk, straight from the heart, would naturally follow.

Keep Pronunciation Up to Standard By John R. Brannan, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The art of conversation may be lost forever, but its sister art of correct pronunciation will not slip entirely away from us if a western newspaper is able to hold its readers up to its own high standard in this respect. Mingling wisdom with zeal, it does not attempt to do everything at once, but singles out as a strategic beginning a few of the words locally mispronounced.

"The ruler of Japan," for instance, "is the mikado, with the accent on the second syllable, and never the mickadoo." A bit of geographical lore is neatly tucked in one hint: "The antipodes-Australia, you knowis pronounced 'antipodeez.'"

History is represented by the information that when you have anything to say about the Renaissance, you should speak of it as the "Renesans," with the accent on the last syllable, and not by any chance as the

Nor should one be betrayed into saying "amatoor" or "amachoor" when one means "amaturr." And when the wind soughs through the branches, we read, it "sows," but never "suffs."

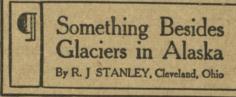

All this is excellent, but we fear that it will not entirely do away with what the English lady called "your horrible American ahccent."

Every young girl looks forward to a summer of rest, but after the first few weeks of vacation are over she begins to find time hanging heavily on her hands. There are many interesting ways in which this time may be profitably spent. Here are a few things some girls are doing: Collecting art copies and writing a short history of each; collecting authors' photographs and learning their life histories, and prominent books they have written; making a scrapbook and forming a history with cartoons from the leading magazines; making scrapbooks with pictures from magazines for little children in the winter. If any girl is so fortunate as to have access to an attic full of old maga-War reports say the English have zines she may make an interesting collection of pictures of women and dating each, which will show the extremely varied and rapid style changes of years. Some girls are busy on their fair work; making jellies or canning fruits and labeling them attractively. Others are busy with

These hints will probably suggest others to anyone interested, and every girl who will try some means of passing her summer will find she has a feeling of satisfaction when schooltime comes again.

One thinks of Alaska as the abiding place of rugged mountains, frozen streams, undeveloped mineral resources, of cold and desolation. Agricultural possibilities, truck gardening and similar activities are commonly considered as belonging to more favorable climates.

Surprise is in store for many who read a recent bulletin of the United States Agricultural department. Wheat, oats, rye, barley, potatoes and a variety of vegetables have matured every season since experiment stations were established in the northern section of the territory. One of these stations is within 75 miles of the Arctic circle. Chicken raising is profitable, while forage crops are grown in the central and southwestern parts.

The mean annual temperature of Sitka, says the bulletin, is about the same as Washington, D. C., which the North considers a southern city. One hundred thousand square miles of the territory are suitable for farming, while garden vegetables and small fruits are profuse.

The human faculties of perception, judgment, discriminative feeling, mental activity, and even moral preference, are exercised only in making a choice.

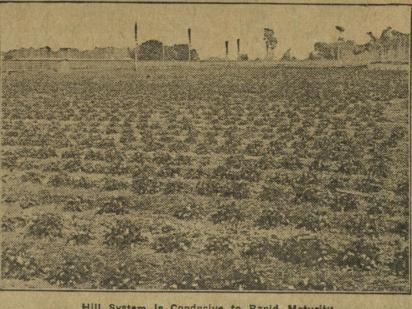

He who does anything because it is the custom makes no choice. He gains no practice either in discerning or desiring what is best. The mental and moral, like the muscular, powers are improved only by being used. The faculties are called into no exercise by doing a thing merely because others do it, no more than by believing a thing only because others believe it. . . .

He who lets the world, or even his own portion of it, choose his plan of life for him has no need of any other faculty than the apelike one of

He who chooses his plan for himself employs all his faculties.

Strawberry plants set this spring will now be forming runners; the first runner plants should be trained to grow in the rows. This may be done with the cultivator. The late runners should be cut off. The object should be to have narrow rows of large, deeprooted, thrifty plants. These are the plants which will give the largest yield and the choicest fruit. Too many small plants act as weeds and absorb the moisture and plantfood needed by the fruiting plants. It is essential to spray celery with bordeaux mixture in order to check celery disease, but this should be done only with a high pressure sprayer, so that the celery is not drenched with the liquid. DOGPROOF FENCING

Dog-Proof Fence.

The United States government in conducting experiments with sheep on the western ranges has devised a fence which will protect flocks from the attacks of coyotes. A fence such as illustrated above will also turn dogs if care is taken to stretch the line of barbed wire along the ground at all points. Where ground is uneven it will be necessary to grade before putting up the fence. Posts are seven and a half feet in length, set two and a half feet in the ground and sixteen feet apart. If expense is considered too great to inclose the whole pasture small lots may be fenced and the sheep placed in them at nights.

Slander, sir! You do not know what you are disdaining. I have seen the most respectable persons almost overwelmed by it. . . . At first a light sound, skimming the earth like a swallow before the storm, very softsoftly, softly (piano, piano), it glides slyly into your ear. The evil is done. It is born, it creeps, it walks; and goes from mouth to mouth diabolical-Then, all of a sudden, I can't tell you how, you see slander straighten up, hiss, swell and grow tall before your very eyes. It springs, stretches its wings, whirls, envelops, seizes, carries off; it flashes lightning, it thunders and becomes a hue and cry, a public crescendo, a universal chorus of hatred and proscription. Who, indeed, could stop it!-Beaumarchais.

THE DEED OF GIFT.

Archbishop Ireland tells the following story of a total abstinence pledge that had a fixed economic value:

"I was strolling on a summer evening along one of the streets in the upper town of St. Paul, Minnesota. The figure of a friend of mine was seen hammering a piece of wood in front of a newly built cottage. I approached with the salute: 'Well, Patrick, what are you doing here?' 'Industrying,' answered he, 'putting some last touches to this house of mine.' 'This house of yours?' I replied. 'Have you had the money to pay for this fine building?' 'Yes, indeed, this house is paid for and so is the next house, mine also; one to live in, the other to be rented to some neighbor.' My wonder grew. 'Why, how is this, Patrick? I remember well when you had very little money.' 'So do I remember, replied Patrick, 'but I have found the money. You, Father Ireland, gave it to me.' Still more did my wonder grow. 'Come inside,' continued Patrick, and in an instant, following his quick pace, I was upstairs in Patrick's bedroom. 'Look here,' he said, 'this is the deed of gift.' I looked. On the wall above the bed, nicely framed, was the document, 'I promise to abstain during my lifetime from all intoxicating drinks. Signed, Patrick ---. Witnessed, John Ireland. The mystery of the two houses, the property of Patrick, was explained. With gladsome hand I saluted him: with warm heart I prayed for further success to the cause of total abstinence."

OF INTEREST TO MASONS.

The attention of the Masonic order has been called to the fact that the sale of liquor in hotels and saloons on Sunday is a Masonic crime. Following is the text of a letter sent by Attorney Joe Beatty Burtt, chairman of the crime prevention committee of the Fraternal Education association to the various Masonic bodies in Chica-

"Dear Friends and Brothers: Doubtless you have noticed in the daily press that the Chicago loop hotels (except the Blackstone and Great Northern) have formed a combination to violate the law of Illinois. The managers of some of these hotels are thirty-second degree Masons and belong to Oriental Consistory. Since the violation of state laws by a member of the Masonic fraternity is a Masonic crime, I am calling your attention to this open, brazen, and notorious offense of some of our ignorant and less informed brethren with the hope that they will overcome their own selfish blindness and correct an error of their ways. I am also informed that some of the Masonic lodges in Chicago are deriving profit from the lawlessness that prevails in our city. No doubt you will agree with me that the time is ripe, in Chicago at any rate, when the canning process should be applied to commercialized fraternity."

THE RED FLAG.

An engineer gave his little girl a small red flag to play with and explained that on the road the red flag signifies danger. "Would you stop your train if you saw a red flag on the track?" she asked. "Yes," he said, "or there might be an accident." After her papa had left, the little girl thought of what she might do to help, and at last she thought of the red flag, and what her papa had told her it stands for. Going to the sideboard, she firmly fastened the flag to the decanter, and then went to bed satisfied. The father came home, went to the sideboard for the usual nightcap, but saw the flag and understood and heeded the warn-

NOT LIQUID BREAD.

In a pamphlet entitled, "Alcohol and the Power of Resistance," distributed among the recruits of the German army, the following statement concerning beer is made:

"There is no justification for calling beer 'liquid bread;' a glass of heavy beer costing 25 pfennigs, has no more nourishment than a piece of cheese costing one pfennig. Almost all excesses and disturbances in the army are traced to drink. It is mostly beer that causes the mischief. Beer is not the harmless drink that it is supposed to be."

ENEMY IS RECOGNIZED.

Trying times have searched out the weaknesses caused by the demon rum and the evil that it does stands apparent. From the ignorant Villa in Mexico to the king of England, from the president of the French republic to the czar of all the Russias, men of intelligence and concern for their fellow man have recognized the enemy of a sound body and a good mind .-Chicago Tribune.

BEFORE AND AFTER.

The public officials of Clarksburg, W. Va., are quoted by the Clarksburg Telegram as saying that but oneseventh as many arrests were made in the city during July, August, September and October under prohibition as were made during the corresponding months of last year. Three members of the police force have been cut off as a result of prohibition.

The correspondent who writes to a contemporary suggesting that the British war office authorities should insist on soldiers being clean shaven instead of ordering them to wear mustaches, might have alleged Teutonic influence in the adoption of the mustache of the British army. The idea was first borrowed from a batch of Austrian officers quartered with some of our troops on the South coast during the Waterloo campaign. It was then taken up by the guards, who very much resented any attempt on the part of mere line regiments to follow the new fashion. The winter campaign in the Crimea led our men to grow full beards for warmth, and these, modified into flowing whiskers ("Picadilly weepers," as they came to be called) on their return to London, were long regarded as the mark of the man of fashion.-London

In the local treatment of woman's ills, such as leucorrhoea and inflammation, hot douches of Paxtine are very efficacious. No woman who has ever used medicated douches will fail to appreciate the clean and healthy condition Paxtine produces and the prompt relief from soreness and discomfort which follows its use. This is because Paxtine possesses superior cleansing, disinfecting and healing properties.

For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. > Every state has some such novelty as our map of corn. Montanna has an apple flag; South Dakota a peacock made of the different grains they raise there; Iowa a mountain of corn; Illinois had the pillars of their booth made of ears of corn, while those of Kansas are covered with cane seeds and sunflowers. Oregon has a man dressed in oats and a woman dressed in oats and clover, suppose they were scare-crows. Washington has a minature wheat field with a machine in operation that cuts the wheat and threshes it at the same time. In the Phillipine Island booth we found basket houses, one made of tobacco and another made of Manilla hemp. Rice is there in plenty, there being some 1500 varieties on exhibition.

Indiana might be called the leader in the different states buildings. Our building represents a Queene Anne Coffee House and is to be purchased by the California Club for a club house. Pennsylvania has the only brick structure on the grounds, a reproduction of the front of Independence Hall. Here the historic old Liberty Bell is found. San Francisco friends. The following were present, Alva had a great time the day the bell was Wise and wife, Wm. McKee, wife and taken to the grounds. An immense parade marched through the main streets, which Clarence Millhollen and femily, Noah were simply packed with people. In the Forehand and family, Samuel Wise and parade were the soldiers from the Presidir the "middies" from the different battle Weaver, Messers Samuel Skeen, Albert ships anchored in the bay, mounted Forehand, Floyd, Lloyd and Harry police, Champ Clark, Governor of Cali-Lynch, Lester Glover, wife and daughter. fornia, and of Indiana and several other noted men. Many of the wagons and motor trucks used on the battle field were Different bands played patriotic airs and at one time the entire line of soldiers sang "America." A Universal Film man drove along the parade taking the inevitable "movies."

When the bell, swung on a motor truck, in a mound of 2000 American Beauty roses, finally came into view, people fairly went frantic. It was preceded by the "Spirit of 1776" and the truck was driven very slowly, giving every one a good view.

Upon the bells arrival at the grounds it was roped cff and several police put on guard. However one woman managed to get over the ropes and kiss the bell. After that no one was allowed to crowd up very close. The police stood there with an expression that as much as said, "Well, what are all you fools crowding through here for anyway? People jammed and crowded through just the same, however the attendance was not quite up to the opening day.

There are many, many other interesting sights on the Exposition grounds, it would take all the Monitor and then some to even begin to tell of them. As for the beauty of the flower gardens, the different courts and last of all, but not least, the buildings, one must see them to appreciate and understand. Here, as in the wonder and glory of the mountains
