She has been teaching for 27 years—in public schools of Iowa, at John Fletcher College for five years, and more recently at Upper Iowa University at Fayette.
Summer School

Summer School closed Friday, August 3rd. The total enrollment was 86. Highlights were the Thursday chapels when ministers from neighboring communities spoke; the Friday evening social events; and the Lyceum program featuring Miss Mildred Richards, soprano, and Mr. Edwin La Bounty, pianist, both of Indiana University.... Visiting chapel speakers included Rev. H. M. Cobb, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Hartford City; Rev. Donald Berry of the Marion Congregational Church; Rev. Wallace Harliss of the Gas City Baptist Church; Rev. J. E. Gibson of the Matthews Methodist Church, and Mrs. Claude Fawns, sister of Dean Thomas. A quartet from Westmont College, Santa Barbara, California, also brought a much appreciated program of sacred music.

Taylor Family Here and There

Following are a few excerpts from a letter from the Frontiersmen Quartet (James McCallie, Herman Schone, Robert Bell and Doraine Snogren) who went out in June for missionary work in Portugal: "We arrived in Portugal Sunday night and started the following evening in meetings. The boat trip took nine days. Thursday night gave us the first visible results. About 20 young people came forward, some for salvation, some for deeper experience with the Lord.... People are very warm hearted.... Later on we will be going where there are more unsaved.... We shall be in Portugal until August 20."

The Taylor Varsity Quartet (Reuben Grotz, Dan Esau, Douglas Scott and Richard Wiebe), at present engaged in evangelistic work in Germany, report a good voyage, a wonderful time seeing the sights of Switzerland, and many opportunities to "sing and testify for our Lord."

Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Nelson of the University of Arizona, Tucson, visited the campus, the new library and Dr. B. W. Ayres recently. Dr. Nelson was the promoter of the Ayres portrait in the library. The artist, Hutton Webster, Jr., is a son-in-law of Dr. Nelson, and is the winner of a Pulitzer prize. Dr. Nelson was a Taylor student in the '20's. He is now Chairman of the University of Arizona Forum Committee and Religious Coordinator, and head of the Education Department.

Prof. E. Sterl Phinney of Portland, Oregon, was a campus visitor on July 19, brought here by the serious illness of his father in Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. A. Lincoln Shute is living at Penny Farms, Florida, % Dr. J. J. Huffman. Dr. Shute passed away several years ago.

Jefferson Township schools (Upland and Matthews) are favorable to Taylor alumni for teachers. This last year the following were employed: principal, James Alspaugh, '39; Dorothy Knight, '40; Virginia Ruth Bunner, '41; Iris Abbey, '15; Wesley Hambidge, '49; Nelle Leisman Alspaugh, '39; Carl Rice, '50; Leigh Maclver, '50; Martha Busch Maclver, '49; and Berniece Flishtorn, '50. Louise Davis attended Taylor 1941-42.

Each alumnus whose Association dues ($2 annually) are paid up by October 10, will receive a complimentary ticket (worth $1) for the Homecoming Football Game Oct. 13!
TROJANS TO TRAVEL AGAIN

The Trojan basketball team will again take an extended trip during Christmas vacation. Games have been scheduled through Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. With only two veterans lost by graduation it looks like another big year for the high scoring hardwooders.

A complete schedule will be announced in the next issue of the Taylorite.

TAYLOR PITCHER SIGNS WITH PITTSBURGH

Wayne Frase, star left-hander for the past three seasons, signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League. Young Frase received an undisclosed bonus and a no Sunday contract. Wayne wants to be a real testimony in pro baseball.

He has won four games and lost one to date in the farm system.

TROJANES CONTINUE UNDEFEATED

Taylor’s Trojanes are still undefeated in intercollegiate girls’ basketball in five years of competition. Under the coaching of Jean Van Horn during the past year, the Trojanes completed their 37th intercollegiate game without a defeat.

“. . . just away”

Mrs. Timothy Warner, (Evangeline Witmer ‘49) died at Iowa City Hospital, June 26, after an illness of only about one week. The Warners were visiting Mr. Warner’s parents at Davenport, Iowa, when Mrs. Warner became ill. She was brought to Fort Wayne, where the funeral services were held in the Missionary Church. Prof. Elmer Nussbaum, who was best man at the wedding of the Warners, June 16, 1950, was a pall bearer at the funeral. Evangeline was a daughter of Rev. S. A. Witmer of Ft. Wayne, who also is an alumnus of Taylor.

Dr. Herbert M. Lyon (’26) of Buffalo, N. Y., died at a hospital there on May 24 after an illness of two days. He had been president of the Taylor University Board of Directors since 1937, and his term would have expired on June, 1951. Survivors are the widow, Ruth Johnson Lyon (’40), former Taylor dean of women, and one sister.

Mr. Lyon was vice president of the medical staff at Deaconess Hospital, Buffalo. He was one of the founders and a director of the Buffalo Bible Conference and the Buffalo Bible Institute, and one of the founders of the Buffalo Gospel Center Church.

Mrs. Ethel Knowles Howard of Huntington, Indiana, wife of Dr. J. Arthur Howard, former Taylor professor, now of Huntington College, passed away June 23 at her home after suffering several strokes. Mrs. Howard received a Master of Arts degree from Taylor during her residence here. At the time of her death she was editor of the Woman’s Christian Temperance Union state paper, The Message. She had formerly held the offices of State Director of Literature and State Recording Secretary. She is survived by her husband, one son, Arthur, and three grandchildren.

Miss Ethel Foust, Dean of Women at Taylor several years ago, passed away in May. She had been ill for several months.

Rev. Alva Beers (’26) died suddenly at his home in Cleveland, Ohio, in May, after returning from a young people’s meeting in his church. He is survived by his wife and three children, Birt, Grace and Alva, Jr.

Mrs. Bertha (widow of J. Frank) Cottingham passed away at the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis in February. The Cottinghams were missionaries in the Philippines for 13 years. After their retirement, Dr. Cottingham was a professor of Bible at Taylor for a few years.

Dr. John C. Bieri, father of Kathryn Bieri (’25), and a former trustee of Taylor University, passed away in March at the Methodist Hospital in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Howard Liddle died at the Methodist Memorial Home at Warren, Indiana, April 30.

Rev. E. Channing Dunn, one of Taylor’s oldest graduates, passed away at Rochester, Ind., in March, after an illness of a year.
A 5-Year
TAYLOR UNITED ADVANCE
Program

Dear Alumni and Friends:

There is an ever increasing need in the Christian Church for a college dedicated to the preservation and the promotion of the Christian culture as ideally held by Taylor University. With many of our church related colleges taking an apologetic attitude toward Christian experience and faith it becomes all the more necessary that a few colleges keep alive evangelical Christianity.

I. TAYLOR HAS A PLACE.

Dedicated to the teaching of men and women the secrets of the Spirit-filled life, coupled with a well trained mind, and to bring clear light upon the doctrine of holiness, has given Taylor a unique place in Christian Education.

In Taylor's ideal and emphasis lies the hope of restoring to life and activity the Christian Church around the world.

II. ALUMNI HAVE AN IMPORTANT PLACE.

No organized church group stands back of Taylor University. She depends entirely upon those who love her and her unique mission in the world. Those who love and live the things for which she stands, and the Lord she seeks to honor, are her richest possessions. Her children love her more than any other group, or should, and can demonstrate that love by an all out united effort.

III. YOU ARE INVITED TO TAKE PART.

Each alumnus and Taylor friend should begin today to—

1. Stand by your school.
2. Spiritually pull. “More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of.” Ask God what he would have you do.

Remember this is the beginning of a five year TAYLOR UNITED ADVANCE PROGRAM. Watch for more literature—more information—more cooperation.

Sincerely Yours in behalf of a great school,

F. Hazen Sparks
Taylor United Advance, Secretary
Greetings from your Alumni President

We realize that every alumnus of Taylor is anxiously awaiting news from the campus. The reason for this is the fact that Taylor means more to the alumni than to any other group connected with the school. Your Alumni board met on the campus on June 30, 1951, and made some plans in which we know you will be interested. The Taylorite will continue coming to you as heretofore. One of our major problems at this time is the securing of a full-time Alumni secretary. Your help in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Homecoming Day on the campus will be October 13, at which time we plan to have an Alumni Program from which you will not be able to stay away. The football game in the afternoon will feature the Taylor Trojans versus the Manchester College Spartans. Mark this date on your calendar now, Saturday, Oct. 13—Taylor.

Taylor University needs the prayers and loyal support of every alumnus. One of the greatest forces for bringing in new students is the Alumni. Will you speak a good word for Taylor wherever you go? Our alma mater may have her ups and downs but she goes on in spite of everything. Now is the time for you to become active in your support. Organize Alumni chapters in your community. The Alumni board will be glad to help you in doing this. Come back and visit the campus and revive the old school spirit.

Yours for a greater Taylor,
Maurice E. Beery, Alumni President

Alumni Board Backs United Advance Program

I believe in the Taylor University Advance Program for three reasons.
First of all I believe in Taylor University.
Secondly, because I believe in Taylor I am interested in furthering her purpose and expanding her influence.
Thirdly, to most effectively accomplish any goal we must be united. Minor issues and differences must be set aside. The future will be Christ exalting if united we stand for a Christ centered, effective Christian College.—Ross McLennan, Vice President

The years I spent as a student at Taylor were years that have made a lasting impression on my life. It was there through the influence of warm Christian fellowship that I completely abandoned my will for the supreme plan of God.
I want other young people to have this same wonderful experience. But Taylor, being without resource of church or state, cannot exist on only the good wishes of the constituency. We must unite our efforts so Taylor can advance.—Ruth Brose, Secretary

If Taylor is to maintain its distinction, it must have the support and cooperative effort of all those who believe in its purpose. Now is the time to unite.
Invest your prayers, your influence, and your tithe in a school that is dedicated to preparing Christian young people for all walks of life.—Don Odle, Treasurer

I believe in the Taylor United Advance Program because the Kingdom of God and the world need the small Christian college. “The graduates of the small colleges listed in the '49 edition of Who's Who in America outnumbered the alumni listed of the larger universities in the proportion of three to one.” Taylor has been supplying some of these leaders; united effort will increase her opportunity to train others for Christian leadership.—Hazel Butz

More than a century ago, God raised up Taylor University to do a job which has proved to be unique in modern history. Now as never before, I believe that Taylor is ideally equipped to carry on this work and is ordained of God to do it “for such a time as this.” Taylor University is worthy of the full and complete support of all who are interested in “holding the line” when the very bulwarks of our Christian society are being shaken by anti-God forces. Taylor will remain evangelical, spiritual and Bible centered! Now is the time for you to pray, to give and to enlist students.—T. W. Engstrom

When I think of all that Taylor has done for me and for hundreds of others, it is with deep humility that I endeavor to pray, “Lord, here am I, use me.” Taylor needs the loyal support of every alumnus and friend today united in prayer, recruitment, enlightenment, and in campus visitation. Investments in Taylor will pay life dividends.—L. Lyle Case

I am supporting THE TAYLOR UNITED ADVANCE PROGRAM with service and finance, for I believe in things that are wholesome, of high integrity and good report.—Barton Rees Pogue
Dr. Ayres Challenges Alumni and Friends of Taylor

Six years ago the close of the war and the Government's "GI Bill" produced an inward pressure on all colleges that changed the problem of student-getting from the severe competition of the war period and the depression preceding the war to one of more selective from the numbers seeking admission. No doubt many colleges turned away some students who would have been very acceptable in normal times. The problem became how to house, both for living and for instruction, plus how to furnish adequate teaching force. Cautious administrators also had to relate expansions necessary in these areas to the anticipated slump in attendance after the crest of pressure inward had been reached.

The crest of inward pressure seems to have been reached in Taylor in 1950-51, and with that the biggest slump by the largest graduating class in Taylor's history. Added to this outward pressure of the GI Bill student cycle by graduation, is the stoppage of the new inflow by the expiration of privilege of initial enrollees. The conditions, both legislative and economic, growing out of the Korean War, as well as general international tensions, will operate strongly to reduce college attendance.

Sincere realism must admit that the recent administrative shake-up and shift will account for some losses; but losses would also have been expected from a continuance of the former policies. It is a delicate and difficult matter to even attempt to correct false or misleading press reports and other forms of publicity released at various stages of the cleavage development within the Taylor family. Private interests and personal loyalties often lead to the dissemination of statements which contain many facts as mere occurrences or events, but so related, when used as subjects or predicates in propositions, or in the relations of propositions in the logical thought structure, as to be utterly false in propositions and invalid in inference.

Many ask, "Why is it the schools which emphasize spiritual religion and holiness so much have so many conflicts and rifts in their staffs?" Perhaps there are no more, but those that do occur are more noticeable because they are more critically observed, like the conduct of a minister's child for whom the public holds a higher standard of conduct. Perhaps the conflict is more intense because the personnel have a more passionate loyalty to moral and spiritual values. Being forced to a decision between loyalty to truth and righteousness as they see it they decide for the moral affirmation of their conscience. The opposition having knowledge of different facts, or making different predicates for the same facts as formed into value judgments, stand firm. If there can be a reasoned, tempered exchange of knowledge of facts and their meaning and relation to each other, usually the conflict is resolved and reconciliation takes place.

In the half century in our beloved institution I have seen these surface storms arise and pass over into a new period. There were usually some casualties from these surface strifes, but, in the main, the deeper waters of our common interest close in to flow on to further creative and redemptive ministry.

So let it be now! Let no one who drew the life blood of his mental and spiritual growth from the breast of his Alma Mater forsake her when the storms blow and the going is hard. Pray for your old Alma Mater! Awaken again to your highest appreciation and deepest loyalty.

Linton A. Wood, the recently chosen President of the Board of Directors, has been tested for many years in the trying vicissitudes of Taylor, and I have had many opportunities to know him in his patient, thoughtful, level-headed action, his thorough-going fairness and ethical sensitivity and moral courage. He is unselfish, liberal in giving, counsel from others. His business interests are never seeks prominence, and accepts leadership only when it is thrust upon him; and humbly seeks large, but so are his Kingdom interests. Let's all, as lovers of Taylor for what she has done, and what under devout unselfish leadership she may yet do, get behind this good man with every form of help we can give, and include in that help daily remembrance of him at the Throne.

Taylor Board Looks to Future With Confidence

At the threshold of a new year for Taylor, her alumni and friends are urged to united effort and prayer that their beloved school shall go forward under the power of God and the anointing of the Holy Spirit.

The rich heritage of Taylor stands out as a monument to her glory, and her Christian standards and traditions are still worthy of support and perpetuation. It is from the halls of a school filled with the presence of God that men and women are sent forth with the burning heart. Such is our desire for Taylor this year, and thus we look forward with anticipation and confidence.

—President of the Board
Linton A. Wood
Alumni Board Organizes; Plans for Future
(From Minutes of Board of Directors)

The Alumni Board of Directors met at 2:30 p.m., June 30, 1951, in Coach Odle’s office with six members present. President Odle called the meeting to order. President Odle reported a balance of $429.33 in the treasury as of June 27. However, there are outstanding bills, including one of $200 to the business office. James Alspaugh reported on a conference which he and President Odle had had with several members of the Taylor University Board of Directors. The general understanding indicates no change in the policies regarding the publication of the Taylorite and in the obligations which the school assumes for it and for an Alumni secretary. The Alumni Board is expected to recommend to the University Board for its approval someone to be a full-time Alumni secretary. It was agreed that the new Alumni secretary be urged to do what he can to revive class letters and Alumni chapters. The following officers were elected for the year 1951-52: Maurice Beery, president; Ross McLennan, vice president; Ruth Brose, secretary; and Don Odle, treasurer. A motion was made by Ross McLennan and seconded by James Alspaugh that the Alumni Association again offer a ten-dollar prize for the best campus decoration on Homecoming Day. The Alumni Board was invited to an informal conference with the University Board of Directors to clarify matters of mutual concern. The Alumni Board then continued its session in the Music Listening Room of the Library. The following committee was appointed to make plans for Homecoming Day: the executive secretary, Vivian McLennan, Gordon Johnson, William Wortman, Don Odle. A vote of thanks was extended to Don Odle for the work which he has done the last few months in the president’s office. The meeting adjourned with the understanding that a special session may be called to consider the selection of an Alumni secretary.
