“let us love one another”

january 18th, MLK day

10:00 A.M. - Chapel
Performance by Gospel Choir
Speaker: Efrem Smith

1:30 p.m. – Workshops

1) Efrem Smith - Continuing the Conversation - Q&A from Chapel Talk
..... MITCHELL THEATRE

2) Dr. Jim Spiegel - Celebration and Betrayal: Remembering MLK's Case for Racial Justice

This workshop will: Summarize King's case for racial justice and civil disobedience, particularly as articulated in his "Letter from a Birmingham Jail", show how his argument appeals to natural law and New Testament moral theology, and note how these two rational grounds for the Civil Rights Movement are largely rejected in the public square today in this country, which creates a quandary for contemporary proponents of racial justice..... RUPP 205

3) Dr. Tom Jones - Weaver: An Ante-Bellum African-American Community That Challenged Racial Stereotyping in Grant County, Indiana

This workshop will introduce students to a local African-American community, born in the 1840s and settled by women and men whose faith, vision, hard work, and commitment to family made their settlement a special place ..... RUPP 203

4) Scott Barrett & Steve Morely - How I Realized I was White

This workshop explores the idea of racial identity development. Using theory, reflection, and group discussion participants will learn about racial identity development and how this impacts our faith, our person, and the ways we interact with the world ..... RUPP 222

3:00 p.m. – Workshops

1) Jason Koh, Charles Allen, Lauren Oliver - Diversity is more than Black and White

The goal of this workshop is to provide perspectives from those who are not Black to have a place to speak out about racism in a time that seems to focus on black or white ..... MITCHELL THEATRE
