FORT WAYNE BIBLE COLLEGE ■ JULY 1986

FIRST FWBC MISSION TEAM TRAVELS TO BRAZIL

by Sue Boklaga

The Student Missionary Fellowship (SMF) of Fort Wayne Bible College, under the supervision of World Missions director Dr. Stan Nussbaum is excited to announce that four FWBC students have been selected for the College's very first summer missions team, slated for Brazil this summer.

The team, organized by SMF outreach chairperson Susan Boklaga, will be working in Brazil for six weeks this summer in conjunction with the summer missions program sponsored by the Missionary Church.

While in Brazil, each team member will be living with a Brazilian family and performing various ministry tasks as directed by the field chairman of the Brazilian field. These tasks will include youth/inner city work, preparing Vacation Bible School material, and doing computer work with local churches.

Gerald Steele, furloughing missionary from Brazil, assisted the team in cultural preparation prior to their departure on June 11. Each team member underwent a "prefield" orientation, as well as raising financial support of $1921 to cover the cost of the trip, including living expenses.

The main objective of the summer team is not only to be obedient to Christ's commission to "Go and make disciples of all nations, . . . teaching them to observe all that I commanded you . . ." (Matthew 28:19-20), but is also an effort to promote a greater missions awareness on the campus of Fort Wayne Bible College. It is hoped that, in the future, Fort Wayne Bible College will be the sending agency for summer

"PRESSING ON . . ." The 78th FWBC Graduating Class

by Debbie J. Carter

The occasion is a serious one. Yet the excitement and feeling of victory that fills the air is unquestionable.

Seventy-two students, gowned in black and gray, marched stately into Founders Auditorium on May 10 for the 78th commencement at FWBC. They sat, respectfully and attentively listening to all of the ceremonial speakers, followed by pomp and circumstance as each of their peers crossed the stage to receive a hard-earned diploma. Yet one could not help but notice the restlessness and eagerness in the rows of young faces to move on to the celebrations that followed the ceremony.

Four or more years of learning, questioning, reading, and testing - With what challenges will the future confront these new graduates? As they go forth into new, even unknown ministries, what will the hours of Bible study, Christian Service and preparation for adulthood equip them to handle?

The Scriptural verse chosen by the 1986 Senior Class is reflective of the group's belief and hope in a better tomorrow; their knowledge that each of them must contribute to the world's enrichment; and their trust in the Lord to lead them, strengthen them, and love them as they make their journeys. "Not that I have already obtained all this, or have already been made perfect, but I press on to take hold of that for which Christ Jesus took hold of me. Brothers, I do not consider myself yet to have taken hold of it. But one thing I do: Forgetting what is behind and straining Youth Conference attendees get a workout.

YOUTH CONFERENCE '86 "ANCHORED" 65 YOUTH TO CHRIST

by Doug Barcalow

"Anchored" was the theme of the 1986 Youth Conference, held on the FWBC campus, at which over 300 teens attended and over one third of the FWBC student body participated. From April 11-13, teens lived in the dorms, ate in the cafeteria, attended services and, in general, did all of the "typical" things FWBC students do.

However, the real story of this year's conference is in the individuals who attended.

On Friday afternoon, a neighborhood junior-high boy saw a truck unloading equipment for the concert that evening. He volunteered to help carry equipment in, and hung around to listen to the band. Following the concert, he asked if he could come back for the services on Saturday . . . a curiosity, a beginning — to know Christ.

Meanwhile, another new relationship with the Lord was beginning to build. As the result of a divorce, an older Bible College student had not had contact with his 17-year old son for eleven years. Recently, in a move of reconciliation, the father, an FWBC student, began working to establish a relationship with his son. When he mentioned the Youth Conference, his son expressed an interest in attending.

Saturday evening, along with 65 others, these two individuals — a junior high youth and a 17-year old gave their lives to Jesus Christ.

The true measure of any conference isn't in the attendance, the finances, or the quality of programming. What really counts are the lives that are changed as a result of the conference. The objective of the conference was to invite youth from all backgrounds to come and learn about Christ and lead them to their own walk with the Lord.

The conference theme, "Anchored", was based on Ephesians 4:14, "Then you will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth by the waves, and blown here and there by every wind of teaching . . .". In this case, Youth Conference '86 will be considered successful because of individuals like these whose lives were "anchored" to the rock of our salvation.

ENDOWMENT PROMOTES MISSION INTERESTS IN NEW WAYS

by Stan Nussbaum

The Clyde Taylor Endowment for World Missions, now in its sixth year, is enriching the world mission program in a variety of ways. In March 1986, Gregg Livingston, founder of a mission for Muslim evangelism (Frontiers, Inc.), spoke at an FWBC chapel and at the annual Outreach Missions Conference, subsidized by the endowment.

In November 1985, Don Richardson, author of Peace Child and other widely read missions books, was brought to campus as a Clyde Taylor lecturer for a Spiritual Emphasis morning. Livingston and Richardson both continued the fine tradition of the mission lecture series which, in previous years, has sponsored such men as L.L. King and Clyde Taylor himself. Beginning this year, copies of the lectures in booklet format are available to FWBC students and to any Pulse/Lifelines readers who request them.

The Endowment has also provided scholarships of $500 each to three students for the last two years. Recipients are students who have expressed a career goal in missions and who have demonstrated the academic ability, attitude, and skills required for missionary service.

Earnings from the first $25,000 of the endowment (the original gift) are restricted to these lectureships, scholarships, and the promotion of missions conferences on campus. Earnings from additional gifts to the endowment are being used in some new ways this year.

The Church around the World monthly newsletter is being distributed to FWBC students and faculty. A modest subsidy has been made to the monthly mission film series planned for weekend evenings by the Student Missionary Fellowship.

Reverend Daryl Cartmel

The Servant-Leader THE MEMORY OF DARYL CARTMEL

by Ted Nickel

Reverend Daryl W. Cartmel built a legacy which will long linger in our memories — a man who truly dedicated his life to spreading the Church around the world and training church leadership.

A native of Australia, reared in a good Christian home, and a graduate of College of the Bible in Melbourne, he sensed the call of God to preach the Gospel to all nations and build the Church of Christ throughout the world. In response to that calling, he went to India as a missionary. There he met Bea Shrum, a Christian and Missionary Alliance missionary, whom he married in 1949. Shortly thereafter, he affiliated with the C&MA and later taught in Union Biblical Seminary, Yeotmal, India. Daryl and Bea were missionaries in India for 20 years.

Daryl, Bea, and their three children, Warren, Bronwyn, and Jennifer came to Fort Wayne Bible College in 1968. For sixteen years, Daryl taught missions and anthropology courses. During his ministry at FWBC, several very significant themes emerged in his teaching. The following are those which appear to be most prominent.

The greatness of God. Daryl was continually awed at the greatness of God. He could expound extensively and intensively on Psalm 145, "His greatness is unsearchable." Daryl had a deep concern that the students' concept of God be enlarged so they would be inspired to reach out to all the peoples of God's world with His love.

Cross-cultural communication. "Since God's love reaches out to all, his children must learn to communicate effectively across cultural barriers." As a result of Daryl's conviction to this thought, he worked for a second master's degree in archeology at Ball State University and conducted extensive research in the Amish community north-east of Fort Wayne, establishing an intimate relationship with them.

He also initiated the current student exchange program between Fort Wayne Bible College and Jamaica Theological Seminary, a sister institution in the Missionary Church. This program continues to serve as a valuable catalyst for sensitizing students and faculty to greater cross-cultural awareness.

Commitment to a local church. Very frequently, Daryl urged students to get more intimately involved in the activities of a local church while on campus. He saw the importance of building a strong "body-life" relationship which can serve as a solid foundation for future ministry. This was not merely a conceptual theme. He practiced it locally at the C&MA Gospel Temple, where he served faithfully as an elder, adult Sunday School teacher, Wednesday evening prayer and Bible study leader, and interim church leader.

Commitment to family. Daryl was a family man. The needs and well-being of Bea and the three children were of the highest priority. He encouraged all of them to follow their educational goals freely and confidently.

After leaving FWBC, Daryl was invited to teach in the Alliance Bible College in Metro-Manila, Philippines. Just days before their scheduled departure, it became evident that Daryl needed radical surgery due to a malignant tumor. Only two months after the surgery, the Cartmels were on their way to the Philippines anticipating their ministry of training national leaders for the church in the Far East. After five months, the cancer returned and they had to return to the States for further

AS I SEE IT

by Harvey R. Bostrom

Soon I will be completing six years as president of Fort Wayne Bible College. I came to this position with a strong sense of God's calling, and a large dose of optimism. I perceived that this school had had a long and significant role in the task of preparing young people for ministry. My experience here has served to confirm and actually reinforce those initial reactions.

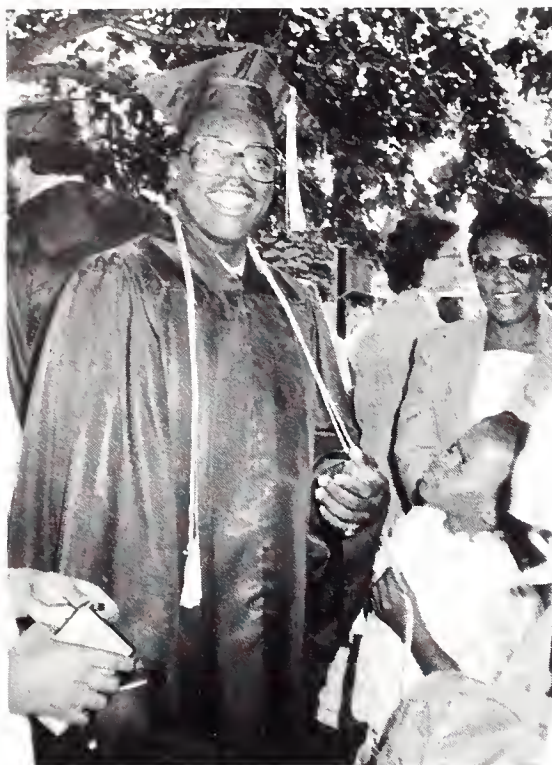

Fort Wayne Bible College is now prepared to move into a position of leadership in today's world of church growth and ministry. There is an atmosphere on campus that encourages both intellectual and spiritual growth. There is anticipation and even eagerness to be on the cutting edge of God's program in these days of change and uncertainty.

The faculty has stamped its character on the curriculum and, as you are well aware, the curriculum was rated to be of excellent quality by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The Board has led the way to institutional strength and vitality by its sacrificial gifts and its courageous and visionary leadership in fiscal matters.

The most urgent task facing our school at this point is a broad scale marketing program that will enable us to have an effective voice in the world of the contemporary church.

FWBC has a good educational system. Our alumni are evidence of a great process. Our only real problem is that we are a well-kept secret. But that is a problem that is easily solved.

As I see it, this school is ready to take giant steps into the future. God bless you all!

toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 3:12-14 NIV).

To the 1986 graduating class, that says something about perseverance, about selflessness, about seeking the eternal richness of Heaven rather than the temporary riches on Earth - doing for others in all that one does.

These 72 new alumni will join over 6,600 FWBC alumni throughout the world to teach, to manage, to work . . . to minister. Their dreams will influence tomorrow's businessworld; tomorrow's church; tomorrow's economic, moral, and cultural standards of living.

Pressing on? Oh yes, for each has learned, at least, that ministry at all levels is a job never completely finished nor an occupation overfilled.

treatment. Daryl endured thirteen consecutive hours of surgery.

After follow-up radiation treatment, Daryl was eager to continue teaching. Simpson Bible College was in need of a missions professor, and the Cartmels moved to San Francisco to teach as long as the Lord gave strength. During the final stages of the disease, Daryl taught from his bed, as late as October 25. On October 30, 1985, he went to be with the Lord, having lived a life celebrating His presence.

Editor's Note:

After Daryl's home-going, Bea assumed Daryl's teaching responsibilities at Simpson College for the remainder of the fall semester, and also for the following spring semester. This summer, Bea has returned to their home in Fort Wayne (730 W. Oakdale Drive, Fort Wayne, IN 46807).

The Daryl W. Cartmel Award Fund has been established at Simpson College, to be awarded annually to a Missions major.

The Daryl Cartmel Memorial Scholarship Fund for International Students has been established at Fort Wayne Bible College to award scholarships each year of at least $500 to deserving international FWBC students who demonstrate financial need.

Persons interested in these funds may write to a) Simpson College, 801 Silver Avenue, San Francisco, CA, 94134; or b) Fort Wayne Bible College, 1025 West Rudisill Blvd., Fort Wayne, IN 46807.

PHONATHON — ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIP FUND CONTINUES TO INCREASE

Due to your generous response to the 1986 Alumni PHONATHON (March 10 - April 1) another $12,500 will be added to the Alumni Scholarship Fund. By the end of 1986, this fund will be over $70,000. This is one of the best ways we as alumni can assist the College. There is not enough financial aid available to meet all the needs of worthy students, therefore each year some students are unable to return. Scholarship assistance that we can give allows some of these students to continue their preparation for service. A special thank you to all alumni who responded to PHONATHON 1986!

A Bridge to the FUTURE

Excitement is in the air!

Our "Bridge to the Future" campaign is well underway, with God's blessing and God's people giving enthusiastically!

This capital campaign, when concluded, will put Fort Wayne Bible College on a firm footing for the future — it means the difference between mere survival and real health and vitality for the College!

Look at the tremendous achievements we've already witnessed since the campaign began:

Phase I — $1 million — COMPLETED! This phase represented high-interest, commercial debt elimination, freeing funds for the upgrading of academic programs. By God's grace, and by the dedication and sacrifice of FWBC's Board of Governors, alumni, many churches, and other members of the College family, it's done! The entire one million dollars has been pledged, paving the way for genuine growth in the years to come.

Phase II — $500,000 — COMPLETED! This phase included construction of an adequate permanent home for WBCL, our outstanding radio station. The 1986 Sharathon went over our goal, raising pledges totalling more than $600,000! What a testimony of the faithfulness and generosity of WBCL's friends! As demonstrated by the photographs on page seven, this phase was a beautiful example of the joy of giving!

Phase III — $950,000 — This is the present challenge, and we're in full swing. In this phase, Fort Wayne area businesses and industries will contribute funds required for the construction of the new Activities Center. Initial contacts have been made with businesses and individuals who have significant commitment to the College.

The new Activities Center, a 41,000-square-foot multi-purpose facility, will include an auditorium/gymnasium, classrooms, offices, and more. This facility will pave the way for exercise and fitness programs for faculty and staff, an on-campus sports program, and a wide variety of seminars, conferences, crusades, and other events. Most importantly, the Activities Center will dramatically improve many of the College's athletic and other programs (our current gym, located in Founders Memorial Hall, was built in the 1940's), and will provide the Fort Wayne community with a first-class facility for major community and church events of area-wide interest.

And now, Phase IV — The Special Gifts Campaign. It's already well under way! With a goal of $475,000, this final phase of our "Bridge to the Future" will ensure a debt-free base with which to face the future and dynamically accelerate the growth of the College.

The funds generated in our Special Gifts Campaign will be applied to costs related to the new building including landscaping, parking, essential gym equipment, and a public address system; as well as computerization required by the campaign, fundraising costs, and assistance in meeting the on-going operational expenses of the new building.

Alumni and family of the College will be contacted soon and encouraged to participate in this final crucial portion of the campaign. Already, a number of alumni have pledged more than $60,000 toward Phase IV.

Join us, won't you, for the climactic final phases of our "Bridge to the Future"!

A personal word from Harvey R. Bostrom President of Fort Wayne Bible College

Dear Friend,

We call it a "Bridge to the Future", because the future is literally at stake here at Fort Wayne Bible College.

Without this crucial campaign, FWBC could enter its next decade in real jeopardy.

But with a successful "Bridge to the Future" campaign, we can move forward into the coming years with academic and financial health and vitality.

That's why I'm so eager to see every friend of the College involved in building this "Bridge to the Future". And that's why I'm so grateful for the significant commitment I've seen on the part of so many already.

It was a joy to see such exuberant giving in Phase II, for example, as friends of radio station WBCL gave so enthusiastically to build a new, well-designed home for that ministry. I'm sure that phase will long be remembered.

It has been a real privilege for me personally to meet with friends during these past several months and share in their excitement for this campaign, to see them stretching out — some making serious sacrifices — for the good of the College, and for the glory of God.

Let me challenge you to be a part of this total effort. If you'd like more information, simply call us at (219) 456-2111, ext. 249. If you already know you'd like to get involved, and would enjoy volunteering in our campaign, give us a call at the same number. We'll be happy to put you to work!

And when one of our volunteers calls you, let me urge you to say "yes". Plan now to give cheerfully and generously to help complete the building of this "Bridge to the Future". We welcome you as a partner and as a fellow-laborer in this important endeavor.

God bless you!

Harvey R. Bostrom

Do we have what it takes? YES!

What will it take to complete Phase IV of our "Bridge to the Future" campaign?

It will take the same spirit of joyful giving and the same vibrant vision of the future that have characterized the campaign so far.

It will mean giving, it will mean work, it will mean sacrifice — but it will mean a strong, productive, debt-free base for the future of Fort Wayne Bible College.

That translates into a tremendous impact on the Kingdom of God as thousands of graduates leave our campus for lives of effective ministry all over the globe.

That's why it's important that we achieve 100 percent participation — it means WE NEED YOU! Your best gift, given in a spirit of love and sacrifice for the work of the Lord in the years to come, can make a real difference as we move into the final stages of this crucial campaign.

Out of our unified commitment . . .

We can do it — together! We can complete Phase IV for the good of the College and the community, for the sake of the Kingdom, for the glory of God!

Your gift toward our “Bridge to the Future” campaign will help us continue to produce graduates of whom you can be proud . . . students thoroughly trained and prepared — intellectually and spiritually — to provide qualified leadership and stability in their churches and in their communities. Only time can measure their eternal impact. “A Bridge to the Future” is for them.

How can you help? Here are a few options:

- Cash
Stocks & Bonds
Investors Agreements
- Real Estate
Life Insurance
Personal Property
- Gifts in Kind
Memorial Gifts

Of course, we’ll be happy to discuss other possibilities with you! Remember, every gift is tax-deductible. And pledges can be made over a three-year period. Here’s what it will take to conclude our “Bridge to the Future” campaign:

Number of Gifts	Gift Amount	Total
1	$50,000	$ 50,000
2	$25,000	$ 50,000
5	$20,000	$100,000
6	$15,000	$ 90,000
8	$10,000	$ 80,000
12	$ 5,000	$ 60,000
15	$ 3,000	$ 45,000
TOTAL		$475,000

Take a walk through our new Activities Center . . .

Here it is — the building that Phase III is all about. Students someday will probably come to call it “the gym”, but it will be far more than a gymnasium. A major multi-purpose facility, the Activites Center will be comprised of 41,000 square feet including a new, larger gymnasium with the ability to provide seating for more than 3,000; modern dressing, shower, and restroom facilities; class-room areas; and office areas for supporting faculty and staff.

The gymnasium, of course, will vastly improve the College’s physical education program. We’ll be able to improve our intramural sports program, create exercise and fitness programs for faculty and staff, and more effectively provide for student social functions.

And we’ll finally be able to bring FWBC’s varsity sports program to the campus — which will be great for the athletes, for the students, for the school, for the entire community!

But the new building will also serve in non-athletic ways: it will be a major convenient location for seminars, crusades, large convocations, civic activities — all of which are impractical or impossible in our present facility, Founders Memorial Hall, which was built nearly half a century ago!

In Phase III, the Fort Wayne area businesses and industries will contribute the funds required for the construction of the new Activities Center.

NINE ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

by Bill Gerig

Every spring, the Alumni Association has the privilege of hosting an Alumni Chapel. This chapel is a time of spiritual inspiration as well as an opportunity to publicly present the annual Alumni scholarships.

This year's Alumni Chapel was April 22, 1986, with eleven alumni participating: Donna (Blum) Lehman ('71) played the organ, Greg Sowles ('86) had the invocation, Jay Platte ('69) led the singing, the "Springer Trio" (Ellen Hanson '80, Julia Lininger '82 and Deb Nussbaum '82) sang, and Rev. Calvin Rychener ('81), pastor of the Grabill Evangelical Mennonite Church, brought a very challenging message.

Nine students were presented $500 scholarships at the end of the chapel hour. Seven of them were general Alumni scholarships with the other two being specific scholarships. The Thomas K. Zehr scholarship was presented by Marceil (Sumney '52) Zehr and the new Indianapolis Chapter Area Scholarship was presented by Lois (Haycock '68) McKuhen, president of the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter. The FWBC alumni in the Indianapolis area have worked hard to finance an annual scholarship for a student from that area.

With the rising costs of private college education, the need for substantial scholarship endowment is greater than ever before. It is exciting to see our Alumni Scholarship Fund grow each year as a result of your contributions to the annual Alumni Phonathon. This year, another $12,500 will be added to the present fund of over $64,000. As giving increases, the amount applied to the scholarship fund can also be increased. Thank you from each of these scholarship recipients for your willingness to become involved in their lives in this important way.

Bert (g31) and Artimese (g31) Eicher, missionaries to India for over 40 years, take prayer requests during the 1986 Phonathon.

PHONATHON 1987 will be in MARCH. If you are in the Fort Wayne area, would you like to be involved as a caller or worker? Let us know and we will contact you with details.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI HONORED

by Bill Gerig

In the second semester of each school year, the faculty choose a certain number of graduating seniors and two alumni to be inducted into the Delta Epsilon Chi Honor Society. The American Association of Bible Colleges established this society a number of years ago for the purpose of honoring outstanding seniors and alumni of member institutions.

The seniors chosen from the Class of 1986 were Angela Binkley, Debra Burkholder, James Gehman, Lois Johnson, and Gregory Sowles.

The two alumni chosen were Dr. Jacqueline Carl and Dr. E. Stanley Leonard. Following are some details on Drs. Carl and Leonard.

Dr. Jackie Carl was born and raised in Lima, Ohio with six sisters. She became a Christian as a teenager and, in 1949, entered Fort Wayne Bible College majoring in education. After graduation in 1953, she attended Ohio Northern and Indiana University and then began her career in education as teacher, high school counselor, and college professor. Her teaching career also included a brief period of service in Sierra Leone, West Africa where she taught English and physical education at a mission-operated secondary school. After 25 years in education, Jackie was ready for a new challenge. In 1983, she completed her doctorate in Psychological Education at the University of Massachusetts.

Jackie is currently a faculty member in the Department of Psychological Sciences at Indiana-Purdue University in Fort Wayne, and also directs the Rainbow Centre for the Person, a private counseling practice she established in Auburn, Indiana in 1984. She also serves on the Advisory Council for the Christian Counseling Program here at FWBC. Church involvements, community service activities, publications, and seminars all keep Jackie extremely busy in her service for the Lord.

Dr. Stan Leonard, born in Boston, Massachusetts, completed his education at Fort Wayne Bible College in 1955 while serving as youth pastor for Holton Avenue Missionary Church. After marrying Donna Jean Neuenchwander in 1954, Dr. Leonard pastored in Michigan and New York City until returning to FWBC to teach.

In 1962, Stan and Donna assisted the new mission churches in Hawaii in their move from mission status to full district status with the Missionary Church.

Since 1966, the Leonards have been at Biola University where Stan teaches in the Christian Education Department. In 1985, he was awarded the Doctor of Ministries degree from Talbot Theological Seminary. Other activities in which Dr. Leonard has been involved include writing, consulting for Scripture Press, team workshops and team retreats with his wife Donna, participation in several Christian Education associations, and a period of study in the Middle East.

Fort Wayne Bible College is honored to have alumni such as Dr. Stan Leonard and Dr. Jackie Carl.
