opening...

As the Vine staff discussed possible themes for the yearbook, many ideas came to mind. We focused on words that naturally relate to Taylor. Words such as community, integrity, change, and challenge were mentioned. We continued to brainstorm until we found a theme that encompassed each person's experience at Taylor.

We come from many different communities. We have many different expectations and many different goals. We have different fears, different tastes, different reactions, and different interests. But we all have ONE common denominator: we are sons and daughters of Christ. We have a Father who loves, touches, speaks to, comforts, and teaches each of us in different ways. ONE God who divinely placed each of us at Taylor University Fort Wayne for His purpose.

With God as our common factor, all of our differences are placed aside. Our combined strengths overshadow individual weaknesses. We mourn, rejoice, and work as ONE. We are ONE Body, ONE Faith.

-Jessica Hochstetler

a new leader to pave the way

Dr. David Gyertson

Dr. Gyertson resides in Upland but he made several visits to the Ft. Wayne campus to speak at chapel services this year.

Dr. Gyertson is an ordained minister and has preached at several churches in the area.

Dr. Yost

a familiar face

Dr. Yost is known well on campus for his smiling face. He can always be found talking to students at meals and on their way to classes.

Dr. Yost even participated in the Mr. TUFW contest.

How much did you pay for books???

Business and Accounting majors are notorious for their expensive books. So, how much do they really spend...

- ♦ I had a book that cost $120. - Jose Sanchez
- ♦ The most I've ever spent on books is $330. - Chad Orlikowski
- ♦ The most I've spent on books in one semester is $420. - Anthony Groer
- ♦ I spent $550 in one semester. - Chad Heathco

christian ministry majors

Terry McDonald takes a break between classes to do some homework in the commuter lounge of Witmer. McDonald is a Christian ministry major and also the major of New Haven.

Dr. Ringenberg made a "special" appearance at the MAC B & B auction in March to the song "I hope you dance". He fully lived up to the award he received at the Christmas banquet for enthusiasm in student activities.

Matt Theborge, Stephanie Struck, Dhurata Kola, and Justice Bradshaw were among a group of TUFW students who attended Urbana 2000 over their Christmas break. This is a week long missions conference held every three years.

Jeff Krabach and Megan Hickman took an exam for their Intro to Ministry class. Krabach is a Music ministry major and Hickman is a Biblical studies major.

Marc Kelley and Lindsey Carpenter spent the fall semester in Israel, along with Anthony Chapman, attending Jerusalem University College.

Nate Zechar, Tom Hephner, Devan Brown, Tauna Herrell, and Scott Armstrong attended the 2000 Youth Specialties conference. Dr. Barcalow took about 20 TUFW students to the conference which was held in St. Louis.

Jim Smuts waits in "Holy Hall" to speak to his Pastoral Ministries advisor Dr. Biberstein. Pastoral Ministries is the largest major on this campus, this year there were 59 students enrolled in this major. The Christian ministry department represents 23% of the student body when including all 5 CMI majors.

Sarah Vestal and Carly Pastuszka worshipped God with dancing at the Youth Specialties Conference. This year 27 students were enrolled in the Youth Ministry majors, many others have a youth ministry minor.

Tim Embry helps pick up garbage on the annual community service day. The CMI majors were assigned to do highway cleanup in Fort Wayne.

TUFW Ministry majors have been involved in various opportunities to use their gifts.

Here are two of them:

Junior Intercultural Studies major-Urban focused, Josh Lee said "Since coming to TUFW, I have enjoyed the urban ministry opportunities that God has provided me with in order to help prepare me for my future." Lee has helped at the Stillwater summer boys camp, Brookmill housing project kids club, LOVE church, and other ministries.

Junior Pastoral Ministry major Matt Jones worked as a youth sponsor at First Missionary Church. He said "I have led small groups and been a youth sponsor for the high school kids for over two years. Having opportunities to teach in these settings and trying to relate my faith to them has helped me to grow in my faith and shown me how God can use me in many ways."

purpose of majors

COMPUTER SCIENCE:

To assist in the education of men and women so that upon graduation they are committed Christians, eager to serve Christ, conversant with all areas of knowledge included within the liberal arts, well-trained and experienced in computer science and systems analysis, and highly motivated to contribute to society.

MUSIC:

To prepare all students to value music as an important part of culture and the development of the whole person, as an essential part of their expression of faith and Christian worldview, and as a creative means to express their ideas, thoughts, and feelings. It is also the purpose of this department to prepare majors with knowledge, skills, and values in music and musicianship for entrance to graduate studies and for careers in music and music-related fields.

A profile: The Wood Youth Center

The Wood Youth Center is a juvenile detention center in Ft. Wayne. Youth can be held there for months or as little as a few days. The ages of the kids range from 10 to 18 years, and they are normally held there for drug offenses, probation violation, battery, and truancy.

Taylor students, Katie Broecker, Beth Potter, Abi Raedeke, Adam Doiron, Doug Joseph, and Marci Wilton spend approximately an hour a week talking with the kids, playing cards or basketball, praying, answering questions, or just "hanging out".

As May 26 approached, Seniors began to march to a different tune... Pomp and Circumstance.

Four years of class is a long time to daydream. Seniors are full of advice for those of you who are struggling to endure.

get a hug from your advisor,

If you start to look like <---this, don't be ashamed to...

do anything for extra cash,

we mean anything,

head for a lounge (group therapy is almost always in session),

or take refuge in your closet.

If you take our advice we're sure that you'll find, your reward at the end and a smile you can't hide.

Pastor Joel DeSelm has many interesting stories that help students understand why it is so important to control the tongue.

spiritual

Freshman Lauren Mutzer gets information about Arab World Ministries, one of the many organizations represented during World Opportunities Week.

One of the best parts of Spiritual Renewal Week is having the speaker available at lunch and after the service for further discussion.

The drama team is an exciting, humorous, and thought provoking addition to our chapels. They have made chapel more interesting and have helped us to visualize many of the lessons that we have learned.

emphasis

The many wonderful voices of our worship team often bring us into an attitude of worship and prayer that can revive us spiritually just as much as the message.

One memorable Chapel speaker was Jilly Bean. She proved, once again, that you're never too old for a puppet show.

Spring break and

The Smoky Mountain gang rests around a campfire after a long day of building, repairing, and painting.

The Ecuador team geared up for hard work and good memories. The trip proved to be a lifechanging experience for many.

j-term mission trips

The Guatemala team posed after a skit at an orphanage. Despite the language barrier they were still able to share God's love through mime.

Sleeping conditions weren't always luxurious but the Haiti crew made the best of it. After a long day of work they were willing to sleep anywhere.

Some members of the Jamaica team cozied up with resident children in the Mc. Alpine Mountains. They used this opportunity to show God's love through affection.

here's the story . . .

Here are the hard-working individuals who aided in the production of this edition of The Vine. While we slaved away in the Mac Lab and the basement of Witmer, two of the lamest hangout spots on campus, you were having fun making all of the memories we captured! Hope you had fun!

... about staff ! The Vine

... and plays hard, too!

closing...

We close this year (and book) amidst a mass of resignations and dead grass. We are continually assured that this "is not a sinking ship." This being Taylor University Fort Wayne, where the student body, along with this editor, wonders: If the ship is sailing fine, why is everyone so quick to reassure us that it is not sinking? So, in the face of all the endings, good-byes, and death I'm closing this book with a list of firsts, new beginnings, and signs of life that marked the 2000-2001 academic year.

- * A new yearbook staff and layout designed to highlight the personal expression of each staff member.
- *A presidential election marked by a concession, a recount, an ugly court battle, and finally another concession.
- *J Squared and T Squared
- * "Fire" in Bethany Hall
- *Eicher Student Commons
- *A winning volleyball season
- *Wild Flowers
- *The yearbook staff meeting deadlines (first time in the history of The Vine).
- *A "witty" newspaper staff
- *Dr. G
- *A summer Olympics that broadcast more "drama" than sports.
- *Tina was named the Ultimate-Outback Survivor.
- *Erin Green. . . the Green's live on.
- *Drive-by-paintball shooting at Bethany Hall
- *Student RD's
- *Grass seed

The new beginnings and signs of life will continue at TUFW. With confidence I can say that even if this ship does sink, there are plenty of life boats for everyone and a new ship is on the way. Don't lose heart, be encouraged!
