This conference, conceived, wrought out, and organized by youth, has become one of the outstanding young people's meetings in America. From the very beginning the whole emphasis of the conference has been the spiritual reconstruction of youth. Literally hundreds of young people have been blessedly converted and mightily baptized by the Holy Spirit and definitely called into service of Christ in the building of His kingdom.

The demand for the conference this year was so great that, in spite of the present difficulties, the college authorities felt that it must continue. To help take care of the food situation it has been suggested and requested by the conference cabinet that each person, as far as possible, bring a can of fruit and a can of vegetables.

REVEREND WINDSOR, CINCINNATI
PASTOR, WILL SPEAK

The Rev. J. Enos Windsor, Pastor of Columbia Methodist Church, Cincinnati, comes back to the conference. He was here a few years ago and proved himself a great preacher and an efficient leader of youth.

The opening program will be Friday evening, March 19. The hours will be full until the conference adjourns about four o'clock Sunday afternoon. The local cabinet hopes to be able to have cars to meet the busses at Hartford City, Marion and Jonesboro for those who have to come that way.

The total cost for the conference is $2.50. This includes registration, lodging for two nights, and five meals. Each guest is urged to bring necessary bedding, since the college furnishes only the bed and mattress.

The conference is for older young people, juniors and seniors in high school, college students and other older young people.

Please write immediately, notifying the registrar that you will be present. Let every friend pray definitely for the conference.

HIS TESTIMONY

"As far as the East is from the West, so far has my Heavenly Father removed my sins from me." Why? Simply because I accepted His Son as my own Redeemer.

I am rejoicing in the glorious reality of a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. As a young fellow, I wish to say emphatically that although we are living in a fast, streamlined and industrial age, the blood of Calvary has lost none of its keeping and cleansing power. Christ's way has not become outmoded nor unworkable for young people. On the contrary, it is the most practical and by far the most profitable way of life today.

I gladly witness to the proven fact that I have found Christ to be a constant source of strength and power; a never-changing guide and counselor; an ever-present defender and bulwark against all surrounding evils.

home in any other clime than that with the blood-washed and redeemed. She would be a misfit in any other atmosphere. Her soul would be native to that climate and I am sure that many of the fine qualities that have been portrayed to us and have influenced us as students through these long years have come from the life of Mrs. Ayres. Also, in the life of Dr. Ayres, humanly speaking, I would say that much of the inspiration has come from that wonderful woman. Only eternity itself could unveil the messages she has written in the lives of these young people as they come and go across these years.

President Stuart paid a great tribute to her in his annual report to the Foundation. He declared that the life of Dr. and Mrs. Ayres had evidenced in an ideal way the radiant holiness for which Taylor University stands.

From all over the country are coming beautiful tributes to the life of this saint of God.

Let the beautiful tributes to this wonderful life continue. These letters from students and friends are helping to sustain Dr. Ayres in this time of his sorrow. These two faithful souls have given more than forty of the best years of their lives to Taylor University.

New York Alumnus ATTENDS ANNUAL FOUNDATION MEETING; HIGHLY PLEASED

One of the high privileges of my relationship to Taylor University came on February 26 when I accompanied the President of the Board of Directors, Dr. Herbert Lyon, to the annual meeting of the William Taylor Foundation.

For the first time I saw the transformation of the buildings wrought through the recent redecoration program. Never have the floors, walls, and ceilings shown the taste and beauty now seen. A new heating unit causes them to glow at old man winter, while they greatly rejoice that all these improvements are debt free.

Of supreme interest was the annual meeting. The financial reports by Mr. Witmer, showing a wise administration, gave high hopes for this the tenth consecutive year closing with a balanced budget. But why are all these splendid buildings, and this expenditure of funds? Here are two answers:

First, Dr. Stuart's report gave full assurance that the school was firmly true to its historical holiness and unique ideals — academic, theological, moral and social. An inheritance of such high standards and life offered to young people is the sufficient, and the only excuse for Taylor's existence.

Again, a very decisive action was taken by the Foundation committing the University to its distinctive ideals, and to emphasize the actual interdenominational service of the institution.

Such loyalty in the Foundation and school should rally to her colors every alumnus, former student, and old friend, and a host of new friends who believe in a college education in an orthodox religious atmosphere free from the harmful amusements and habits of this day. When did you last write the school? Are you a Foundation member?

NEW BOARD MEMBER IS HIGHLY PLEASED

D. Marion Lochner, new member of the Board of Directors, writes:

"I had a very pleasant time attending the meetings. There was so much good fellowship that I did not feel like a stranger.

"It seemed to me that the school is in fine condition. I am trusting for a good faculty and student body again next year. The Lord will surely bless Taylor University because it has so earnestly endeavored to honor His Word and inspire clear thinking and courageous Christ-like living."

Taylor's Friends Must Keep These Memberships Coming

From Marjorie Yingling, '33:

"Enclosed please find $10.00 for which pay my WILLIAM TAYLOR FOUNDATION membership for this year. Taylor surely grows in value to me — more than I could find words to express, not only in memories fond but in appreciation of the life values it offers."

"Just received another Bulletin in the mail. It is always so welcome as I enjoy news from you and the rest of the Taylor family. I shall ever be grateful for the privilege of being a part of that family."

"I would like to renew my membership in the WILLIAM TAYLOR FOUNDATION with the enclosed $10.00."

Reports Show School Is Meeting the Problems of Wartime Efficiently

At the annual meeting of the William Taylor Foundation, held at Taylor Friday, February 26, the new president of the foundation, Dr. Herbert M. Lyon of Buffalo, presided for the first time. Dr. P. J. Fisher of Marion was reelected for a three-year term on the Board of Directors.

Reports of the president, treasurer and business manager of the college showed a very healthful condition of the institution. The business managers report showed that the cash receipts, as compared with the same time last year, were less than one per cent below what they were then. At the same time while everything that was necessary to be done in handling the buildings and equipment had been cared for, there was a decrease in disbursements of eleven per cent. This condition was attributed to carefulness in the handling and use of incoming funds.

The business manager's report showed confidence in the future as he said, "We have not only a conviction, but an assurance that He has seen us through to this point, and we can not escape the feeling and conviction that He will see us through this trying period even though it may require much hardship and sacrifice."

The Foundation membership and Board of Directors were definite in their expression of the conviction that Taylor must continue as a school that is true to both works of grace and interdenominational in service, opening the door wide to any and every student who wants to enter an "Effective Christian College."

Taylor Is Ideally Located for

HAPPY, WHOLESOME STUDENT LIFE

STUDENTS? YES . . . They are going to college somewhere next year. You can help to turn them toward Taylor.

Taylor University is located where the surroundings are ideal for study and preparation for life's task. The buildings are adequate, the grounds are beautiful, and it is all away from the turmoil and strife of the city.

Never has a college like Taylor been needed as today. The friends who know of the fine work done scholastically in the midst of a blessed spiritual atmosphere can render no greater service to a young man or a young woman than to turn him or her to Taylor for training. Young people are making their decisions now. Why not see them and tell them about Taylor University? Write for literature and we will help you every way possible from our offices.

Parents Praise School for Its Contribution to Youth

"Enclosed you will find fifteen dollars—ten dollars for the WILLIAM TAYLOR FOUNDATION fund and five to be used to help with the expenses of the Youth Conference. We are so glad for what Taylor is doing for young people and what it did for our own daughter, Ruth. The hope of our nation is in getting a multitude of young men and women established in grace to go out and take their places in the world and show the realities of salvation."

—Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bolter

Friends Are Responding To Increased Wartime Needs

Everyone knows how the cost of living is going up and how young men are being taken out of the college halls, so that it is going to be necessary for us to make our gifts larger and to send them more often so that the financial needs of the school may be met. Your income is increasing, so please out of your tithe and gifts remember Taylor in as large gifts as possible. The school is going toward the end of the tenth year in which the budget has been balanced, every obligation met and salaries paid. We are depending on friends who love Taylor to see that this record is kept up.

$100 FROM FLORIDA

"Dear Brother Stuart: For the past few days I have felt the urge to send you a check. I believe it is in March you have your Youth Conference. May the Holy Spirit abide in power upon this meeting."

FROM AN INDIANA FRIEND

"It occurs to me that I should be a member of the William Taylor Foundation and so I am enclosing a check for $100.00 from which you may take $10.00 or more for this purpose. The remainder may be applied to any other fund where it will be most useful."

FROM A KANSAS FRIEND

"Dear Sirs: Have read your Bulletins that you have sent and am glad to get them. Am glad there is a school like yours where young folks have a chance to go. Enclosed is a check for $25.00. Use it where you will help some one to God."
