Evening Class Schedule

If you live in or near the school, perhaps there are several evening courses offered during the second semester which might interest you. These classes meet either Monday or Thursday evenings, from 7 to 8:40 p.m., and carry full college credit. This spring there is quite a spread of subjects from which to choose.

In the field of Bible, there are courses in the life of Christ and in Acts. For church workers, there are classes in church history, Christian education of children, pastoral counseling, or religious and educational drama. Such courses as high school music, elementary school art, or school crafts will be of interest to teachers. Prospective missionaries will find ethnology or first aid of help.

Evening classes begin Thursday, January 24 and run through Thursday, May 23. Consider preparing yourself for a wider and more effective ministry by enrolling in one or two of these courses. Write or call the registrar for more complete information.

S.M.F. Pledges $5,100

The Student Missionary Fellowship has pledged $5100 for missions this year, the highest on record. This amount is $664 more than was pledged last year.

Projects adopted by the students include $850 toward a dormitory for the Sierra Leone school, $250 toward purchase of pre-tuned transistor radio sets for HCJB, Quito, Ecuador, and $500 toward purchase of books for the library of the Jamaica Theological Seminary. The students also support alumnae: Miss Florence Cavender in Columbia, South America and Mrs. Arthur Hall in Jamaica, West Indies.

Students are willing to support missions far beyond what might be expected. Going even beyond the above projects they are trying to get a trumpet and accordion for the Jamaica Theological Seminary. Perhaps someone reading this may have such in good condition not being used, and would like to donate it for missionary use. If so, send it to the college in care of Mr. Timothy Warner and it will be forwarded down to Jamaica with the other gifts.

REV. HAROLD WALKER AT SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS WEEK

Rev. Harold Walker has been selected to minister at the second semester Spiritual Emphasis Week services, Tuesday through Friday, Jan. 29-Feb. 1. Mr. Walker, who attended F.W.B.C. in the mid-forties, is on the Youth Crusade staff of Youth For Christ International.

You are invited to attend the services at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. in Founders Memorial Auditorium.

Mr. Walker has been preaching since he was converted at the age of 16 in a Detroit rescue mission. His ministries have been to churches, youth rallies, camp meetings, colleges and universities and community crusades. His work for the Lord has carried him to 48 states as well as 45 foreign lands. As a Y.F.C.I. crusade staff member he assists over 400 Y.F.C. workers around the world.

Mr. Walker will be remembered by many alumni for his past special services at the college and by many others for such outstanding campaigns as in Berne, Ind., where more than 2,000 people attended nightly and over 300 recorded decisions for Christ.
GREETINGS FROM GLORY!

Heaven came down to bring the first Christmas greetings of long ago to the humble shepherds watching their flocks on the Judean hills. It was night but there was a song in the night. The Savior had just been born, and all heaven had bowed low to introduce the Son of God to earth. It is still night, and the world is still engrossed in its darkness; but Jesus is coming again. At this Christmas season, we send you greetings in the faith: and with encouragement in this night of sin and woe, we point you to Him, Who shall appear a second time without a sin-offering unto final salvation.

Our salvation is a trinity of realities: Jesus came to save us; He now lives to keep us; and He is coming again to receive us.

Jesus Came to Save Us

Concerning the first, it was the Apostle Paul who wrote, "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief." The faith of the Christian embraces this great historical fact that the Son of God came into the world, this world with all of its sin and degradation. For thirty-three years He was a part of this world's history, and His coming was aimed at the salvation of lost men and women. This He accomplished not by His life, His teaching, or His example, but by His death on the Cross.

Jesus Lives to Keep Us

The second great present-tense reality is that He lives to keep us. He died, was buried, and then arose and ascended into heaven where He ever lives to make intercession for us. We are being saved by His life. We have not been left without an advocate, Who constantly pleads our case in the court of heaven. It is this same living Lord Who has sent the Holy Spirit to be our keeper, comforter, guide, and strength for the earthly pilgrimage. So adequately is His provision for us that we can say with Paul, "I can do all things through Christ Who strengtheneth me."

Jesus is Coming to Receive Us

He is coming again to receive us unto Himself. This is the third and climaxing fact of our redemption. The hope of the church rests not in man but in the coming of Christ. The angels might well arrest us again and arouse us from our complacency with the words of old, "Why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven." At this Christmas season let us look away from man to Christ, from earth to heaven, from whence He shall appear a second time--and we believe soon.

The Fort Wayne Bible College family sends you greetings and wishes you the blessings which alone come from the Savior Whose birth we celebrate and Whose coming we anticipate.

Students Aid Delinquents

White's Institute of Wabash, Indiana, a detention home and school for delinquents nine to 18 years of age, has opened its chapel to a team from FWBC for a Sunday afternoon worship service once a month.

Sponsored by the Friends Church, the institute is home and school for nearly two hundred young people. These youths have been placed in this corrective institution by the welfare bureau, court, or by their own family to prevent their becoming criminals.

Families of the delinquents will also attend services with the youths. The young people know very little about the gospel, so the team will present it simply through music and message, to convince them of the need of Christ in their lives.

Job Opportunity

A full-time cook is needed at the college. If you should desire to serve the Lord in such a ministry, please write to the president of the college for more details.

Timothy Warner Cited

The Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce has presented the Merit Award to Assistant Professor Timothy Warner in appreciation for his services teaching a citizen's course in "Freedom vs. Communism." The course is one of a number sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce to inform Americans of the aims, operation and philosophy of Communism and why it is a challenge to our freedom.

The course also teaches the basic values and concepts which undergird our American way of life in order to know how to strengthen and improve the free competitive enterprise system.

The Executive Vice-President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Arch N. Booth, says, "The plain facts of life are these: If our free competitive enterprise system is not understood by the American people--and if our economy is not kept strong and made to grow stronger--then our most effective weapon against Communism will be lost, and the balance of world power will be shifted to the side of Soviet Russia."
Ambassadors Open Season

Bulletin--The Ambassadors added another victory to their season against Midland College on Dec. 1. Steve Morley earned 32 points as top scorer giving the Blue and Gold a final score of 97-81.

The Ambassadors, captained by Paul Mays, opened their season dropping two and winning one game. A 17-game basketball season finds several experienced returning lettermen and several promising newcomers out to even up the score after last season's 2 win, 14 loss record. Games have been arranged chiefly with other Christian colleges in a four-state area.

In addition to Paul Mays, last season's leading scorer, four returning lettermen will see action this year. These include last year's starting center Dave Berggren, forward Steve Morley, last year's second highest scorer and guards Duane Ford and Bud Williams. Bob Moening and Phil Buchanan also return from last year's team.

From the freshman class, center Bryce Winteregg and guard Darrell Schierling have been impressive in practices and should see a good deal of action before the end of the season.

After an opening trouncing by Oakland City College 63-112, and by Grace College 45-114, in the final game before Vision deadline the Blue and Gold took on Moody Bible Institute and came through with a 97-88 victory. Mays was really hitting the basket in this game, scoring 27 points for B.C.

Coach O.H. ("Os") Morley believes that even though his cagers are playing a tougher schedule, they have a good chance to improve their standing. See the Ambassadors in action at any of their home games at the Fort Wayne State School at 8 p.m. except as noted. There is no admission charge.

Thor Johnson, one of the nation's leading symphony conductors, is scheduled to bring the Chicago Little Symphony for a concert in Founders Memorial Auditorium, Fort Wayne Bible College on Saturday, March 2 at 8 p.m. There will be no admission charge for this public performance.

Dr. Johnson and the Chicago Little Symphony will bring 20 of Chicago's finest virtuosi in a program of music written for this instrumentation. While any member of the orchestra is accustomed to playing solos in other leading engagements, only 4 to 6 soloists will be featured at this appearance.

He has conducted the Ann Arbor May Festivals annually since 1939, except during World War II. He conducted the NBC Symphony's tour of the Orient, and has also had many guest engagements in Europe.

In the spring of 1960 Dr. Johnson flew to Tokyo, Japan to conduct the Tokyo Philharmonic, including TV broadcasts as well as recordings.
