TAYLOR UNIVERSITY DAY

For seventy-five years the atmosphere of Taylor has been evolving. Its principles, its grand depositum and its antecedents combine to make a college that cannot be duplicated.

Taylor knows the language of the human heart. The world is waiting for its message and influence; and the hour has struck for its friends and custodians to rise and put it forward.

Rev. Wm. H. Huff, World Evangelist.

The Taylor-Day Speaker.

TUESDAY, JUNE 16

"Taylor and the World Vision" will be his theme.

What Taylor means to the world is one of the biggest things to be accentuated at this commencement, and a day has been set apart for it. It is also Alumni Day, when Taylor's sons and daughters from all the ends of the earth will turn their eyes this way, while their hearts are lifted in prayer for Taylor.

Our Secret of Success

We trust God.
We believe the Bible.
We keep in the middle road.
We emphasize personal salvation.
We enthuse over world evangelism.
We identify ourselves with the church.
Our motto is "holiness unto the Lord."
We let people know where we stand.
We respect and fellowship all Christians.
We have no baby denominationalism to nurse.
We have no mammoth denominationalism to adore
We advertise only what we have.
We have a healthy college spirit.
We do not misstate or exaggerate our rating.
Our teaching talent is well trained and consecrated.
We cultivate and confer with the best standardizing agencies.
We limit our academic offerings to match our plant and our purse.
Our social fellowship is not spoiled by fanaticism or legalism.
Size of faculty matches size of student body and favors personal touch and thoroughness.
We seek to give threefold improvement in the order of importance: spiritual, intellectual, physical.

What is Taylor's Rating?

For Teachers—In the State of Indiana, Taylor University is a teacher training institution, its collegiate courses having regular accreditation. Indiana certificates are exchangeable at par in many other States.

For Doctors—Premedical students enter the University of Michigan for their M. D. after three years at Taylor, these three years being accepted as meeting standard college entrance requirement. The first year of graduate work in Michigan is, by reciprocity, accepted at Taylor in lieu of graduating year for Taylor students. No doubt this arrangement is available in other medical schools.

For Preachers—The A. B. at Taylor is good in Princeton and other seminaries. The master's work in the theological major at Taylor also receives due graduate credit in the same circles.

For Others—By test, in intellectual measurements and contests, the training under Taylor's curriculum averages well with that of the best colleges and universities.

An Appeal to "Children of Light"

"The children of this world" are wise enough to provide for their colleges. They make liberal gifts in their lifetime and remember them extensively in their wills. We believe that "children of the kingdom" will learn to do the same as they share the larger vision. We appeal to the friends of Taylor and its standards to make their gifts and their wills, remembering that to help Taylor means to give the church good preachers, to strengthen the entire mission field, and to give the world a saving citizenship. Taylor's annuity bonds, bearing liberal interest, put your worldly goods where you get returns without taxes, without worry and without having to trouble any one to administer a will after you are gone.
