MARIA WRIGHT HALL.

This building (frontispiece) was the first erected on the campus, and was made possible by the splendid gift of Mrs. Maria Wright, of Washington, D. C., whose zeal and devotion to the school, and whose prayers have done so much to help in this great work.

NOTED FOR REVIVALS.

Taylor University has been noted through the years as a college where revivals can be had. There has never been a failure any year. Every year there has been a good revival and sometimes two or three. Often the revivals seem to be spontaneous. Especially is this true at the beginning of the school year. While there have been many unusual manifestations of Divine Power, the greatest perhaps of all came in the meeting held last May when on the night of May 3rd the Holy Spirit fell on them and they all began to testify and praise the Lord as the Spirit gave them utterance. “Now when this was noised abroad the multitude came together and were all amazed and marvelled at the unusual manifestation,” and some ran to the altar and were gloriously saved. This was clearly that which was spoken by the prophet Joel.

EVANGELISTIC SINGING.

There is a great demand for Evangelistic Singers in Revivals and Camp Meetings. To meet this demand a strong course in Evangelistic Singing is offered in Taylor University. This includes voice training, drill in conducting a chorus, Bible study and such subjects that will enable one to be a personal worker.

TAYLOR MEN ARE DOING THINGS,

The key man in the great mass movement of India is Charles W. Scharer, of Belgaum, India, a graduate of Taylor University. The leader in the great reconstruction work in France is E. W. Byshe, a graduate of Taylor University. One of the leaders in the great revival in the Philippine Islands is Frank Cottingham, District Superintendent, a graduate of Taylor University. One of the greatest leaders in the spiritual part of the Centenary is the Rev. James M. Taylor, D.D., who has his degree from Taylor University. One of the most effective workers in the building up of Porto Rico is Samuel Culpepper, District Superintendent, a graduate of Taylor University. The “Billy Sunday” of Japan is K. Hiraide, a graduate of Taylor University. But time would fail me to mention the many efficient Taylor students "who through faith are working righteousness, obtaining promises, and turning to flight the armies of the aliens.”

MISSIONARIES AND MINISTERS.

Forty-seven missionaries have sailed from Taylor University in the past twelve years and are now preaching the unsearchable riches of Christ to the heathen. Five others are preparing to go this summer. The church will be kept alive only as the missionary spirit is kept alive. The call has gone out for fifty-three thousand missionaries in the next five years. The church will have to look to Taylor University for a large number of these missionaries. In this twelve years over four hundred young men have been in Taylor University preparing for the ministry and have made all or part of their preparation at this place. From some quarters there comes a cry "a dearth of ministers.” It is only such a school as Taylor University, that maintains a full Gospel, that we can expect to supply preachers that will be Heralds of a Gospel that will save to the uttermost.
Dr. A. Verne Westlake,
Director Music Department
PIANO DEPARTMENT.

The piano department of Taylor is one of its strongest and most popular branches. We are fortunate in having for director so enthusiastic and capable a musician as Dr. A. Verne Westlake. Dr. Westlake has raised the standards of this department to an appreciable extent, and has succeeded in installing more complete courses for the development of well rounded and efficient musicians.

In addition to extensive teaching experience in and about Pittsburg, Dr. Westlake has had the privilege of study with such eminent European teachers as Theodore Leschetizky, Fraulein Prenter, Mason, and Melville—Lesniewski. After his return from abroad he founded the Extended Conservatory of Pittsburg, in which school, including the extension department, he had enrolled over two thousand students.

During the three years in which he has been at Taylor he has not only proved his real worth in the school and its vicinity, but has established his rank as a musician of note in the State of Indiana. He has been appointed Secretary of the Indiana State Teachers Association, and the state surely has no musician more alert to the possibilities of his profession.
Mrs. Stant
TAYLOR UNIVERSITY MUSIC SCHOOL

The patrons of Taylor University are to be congratulated on the addition to the musical faculty of Mrs. Myrtle Holmes Stant, who is to be Vocal Teacher.

She is a graduate of The Detroit Conservatory of Music. She has had her vocal training with such distinguished teachers as Prof. Ganapol of the Detroit Conservatory of Music, Prof. Francis E. Woodward of Spokane, formerly well known as a singer, teacher and director in Boston, Mass., and with the eminent Italian composer and teacher of voice and piano, Signor Riccardo Lucchesi of Los Angeles, formerly of the conservatory of Bologna, Italy, and the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. Signor Lucchesi, a master of the true Italian "bel canto," numbered among his pupils such artists as Melba, Gadski and many other successful singers. While for four years a favorite pupil of his, Mrs. Stant did private teaching, directed a choir and appeared on many occasions in concerts and recitals. During this time she met many noted musicians and twice refused opportunities to make her debut in grand opera.

The Santa Paula Chronicle says of her: The large audience at the Ventura Chautauqua on Sunday afternoon was greatly pleased with the sacred concert given by Mrs. Myrtle Holmes Stant. Her magnificent voice seemed to fill the large auditorium with melody, whether she sang with power or used her softest tones. Rarely one hears a voice so well adapted for concert singing.
HELENA MEMORIAL HALL.

This was made possible by the will of Mrs. Helena Gehman, and was erected in honor of her husband, Rev. R. W. Gehman. It is a substantial brick building in which there are chapel, music hall and gymnasium.
DINING HALL SCENE.

The Students are just leaving after a meal where the Students from all departments and from all lands meet with teachers for their regular meals like one large family. The board in this dining hall is equal to a first class Cafe at extremely low rates.

The dining hall has recently been beautified and improved by furnishing it with new chairs and inlaid linoleum. Often the chairs are set aside and religious services are held therein.
Dr. Newton Wray, D.D.
Dean of Theological School
THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.
Positive, Progressive, Orthodox.
The demand of the age is for a Positive Theology. The world will not follow a negation.
“I have believed, therefore, I speak.”
It must be a Progressive Theology. “I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.”
It must be orthodox. “To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.”
The Bible must be the center and foundation of all theological teaching. A “thus saith the Lord” must be back of all the theories. Not what a creed has said, but what the Word of God has said. Not what did the writers of the Bible mean to say, but what did they actually say.
This is the opportune time to preach a Gospel that is adequate for all the needs of a restless age. These preachers must be prepared in a school that is sure of its foundation and is not afraid to teach a full salvation from all sin, both the guilt of sin and the taint of sin.
Taylor University will build up such a Theological School on the Wesleyan doctrine of full salvation, and invites all, who will study the Bible to proclaim its saving truths, to study with us.
A noted evangelist has said: “In this school the Bible has the proper place and is believed and taught as the very eternal Word of the living God.” Another one has said, “The conviction seems to grow upon me that Taylor University is nearer to the pure sources of our larger life than many of our colleges and that her success means the rectifying of our educational system as well as providing the spiritual power-house to the denominations.” The conservative method of interpretation is adopted. Destructive criticism is not tolerated. The result is that the young people who go out from this school are evangelistic and missionary in their spirit.
All who believe in such a school are urged to contribute liberally and co-operate in every way to make it effective to the building up of the Kingdom of God.

THE BIBLE SCHOOL.
Many have the call to preach the Gospel who do not have time for a long course but must study the Bible to fit them to preach it successfully. This Course is especially adapted for such.

DEPARTMENTS.
College, Academy, Music, Bible School, Normal, Expression, Domestic Science, Art, Missions.
THE ACADEMY

The leading Protestant Academy of Indiana. It is Commiss­ioned by the State Board of Education so its graduates are fitted to teach in the Public Schools.

Candidates for the ministry from many different denomina­tions were in the Academy during the past year. We invite every denomination to make Taylor University Academy its Academy.

WHY SOME STUDENTS SELECTED TAYLOR UNIVERSITY.

I am taking my A. B. degree from Taylor University be­cause the institution stands for both high scholarship and high Christian character. Taylor trains men and women to be efficient citizens. The environment of the student is such as will aid him in his spiritual, mental and physical development. Tay­lor’s expenses are reasonable; her discipline wise, kind and firm; and her society pure. Her students are trained to think hard and independently. In short she strives to make the best out of her students.

—Indiana.

CLARA E. SAUER, '15.

To develop the mental in harmony with the spiritual; to learn to work tenaciously, yet rest in God peacefully; to suc­ceed to think deeply and widely, yet believe devoutly; to be able to contend hotly, yet love peaceably; to warmly feel that every man is my brother and I am his debtor; in short, to be able to have the “utmost for the highest,” are some reasons why I am completing my A. B. course in Taylor. Besides, I believe, in no other school would this be so nearly possible.

—Ohio.

WARD W. LONG, '15.

I am taking my A. B. degree from Taylor University be­cause I consider it worth while to be a graduate from such a school, with its thoroughly efficient and Christian teachers, who are ever ready to give help and advice, and who by their example teach us more than we can learn from books.

—Penn.

MRS. O. H. BLOOMSTER, '15.

I am taking my A. B. degree from Taylor because I believe it to be the will of God; because it is the wish of my parents and brother, and because I choose to own as my Alma Mater, the institution which I can recommend to give wholesome in­struction to young men and women.

—Ohio.

LENA E. CHALFANT, '15.

I am taking my degree from Taylor University, because her ideals are best adapted to the highest development of true Christian character. Her students are equipped to meet suc­cessfully the storms of life not only intellectually but spiritually as well.

—Pennsylvania.

ALICE M’CLELLAN, 15.
I CAN LIVE EVEN AFTER DEATH.

I need not die. I can start something that will live and do good after I am gone. I want to invest my money where a great work has been built up by sacrifice and where the welfare of humanity is the only object to be attained; where error and wrong will be fought and every good cause will be aided and fostered.

Taylor University does all this besides standing for “The highest New Testament Standard of Life and experience.” As a result of this standard very few if any colleges have sent out as many missionaries as Taylor University.

Ministers in large number have gone out to the four corners of this country to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ, and Christian Laymen with high ideals have gone into every walk of life. This is the kind of work I want to keep going forever. I wish to put my life and means into such a work that I through this may live forever, that I may never die.

I find by subscribing to the permanent endowment fund of Taylor University I can thus live forever.

Will you join me? The plan is so easy that any one can engage in it. If you do not have the cash you can sign an interest bearing note and pay it as convenient.

PERMANENT ENDOWMENT STARTED.

The students have enthusiastically started the enterprise of the Dean’s Chair. They are calling upon all former students to assist them. They will succeed of course for with such a high purpose they will enlist all the former students until the great work is done.

It hoped that other groups or individuals will catch the vision and assume the responsibility of endowing other chairs.
University for some copies of this wonderful book. You should send at once to Taylor.

FULLY to increase the Revival spirit in any community, this circulation will help wonder-

Samuel Morris' shows that they made no mistake in sending him to Taylor University. He wonders that we did not know of that little book to find the Holy Ghost. His wonderful life as vividly described in that little book by friends in New York because they thought that was the best place they knew of who came to this country to find the Holy Ghost and was sent to Taylor University.

This building was erected in honor of that wonderful character, Samuel Morris.
Sickler has long since passed to his reward, but this sum of money that he gave continues to bless the boys and make it possible for many a man called of God to prepare for his great life work.

SICKLER DORMITORY.
THE CENTRAL HEATING PLANT.

Most of the buildings on the campus are heated from this central heating plant. The buildings are also furnished with running water, hot or cold, and electric lights.
FARM AND BARN.

Taylor University has a farm of seventy acres on which is a fine barn, largely the gift of Mrs. Martha McGrew. The farm is a great assistance to the dining hall. We are establishing, as rapidly as possible a fine herd of holstein cattle which we expect will furnish the milk for the dining hall. There is also a fine silo on the farm, the gift of C. C. Cartright.

THE CLIPPINGER OBSERVATORY.

This was named for Prof. Clippinger, one of the self-sacrificing professors who practically gave his life for the welfare of the school. The telescope is a ten and one quarter inch reflector.

SPEICHER AND SHREINER DORMITORIES.

The two Speicher and Shreiner Dormitories are beautiful dormitories of which we have no cuts herein were made possible by the gifts of D. L. Speicher and Israel B. Shreiner. These blessed and useful gifts should inspire others to leave a memorial at Taylor University.

LOCATION.

Taylor University is located at Upland, Indiana, on the Pennsylvania Ry. Almost midway between Chicago and Columbus, Ohio. Twelve miles from Marion, Indiana, seventy-five miles N. E. of Indianapolis.

Send for Catalog to President M. Vayhinger, Upland, Indiana.
SWALLOW-ROBIN DORMITORY.

The gift of Silas C. Swallow and other friends. This is a dark brick building; one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus. A most comfortable home for the ladies, furnished with steam heat, electric light, and hot and cold running water.
